MORE MINERS ENTOMBED
WHEN RUSHING WATERS
POUR INTO THE SHAFTHundreds of Men Working to Rescue Those Caught By Floods--All Hope is Abandoned at Superba Mine.(By United Press.)
Uniontown, Pa., July 26.—At

Lemont mine 100 men are battling today for the lives of three miners believed to be waterlogged in the pits. The trio were caught 1800 feet from the mouth of the mine and may be starving to death in a gallery leading upwards. At the water's edge far down in the shaft the rescuers fought the flood back inch by inch. The biggest pumps of the mine are coupled up and firemen feeding the boilers that drive the pumps are relieved hourly.

Hope is dead at nearby Superba mine where fourteen or fifteen miners were drowned Wednesday and while the rescue work is being pushed rapidly, it may be two months before the dead bodies are taken out. The widows and orphans of the dead men cling to the entrance of the shaft alternately bemoaning their plight and berating the mine owners for not warning them of the danger of flooding.

HOGAN PREPARING TO SUE RAILROADS(By United Press.)
Cleveland, O., July 26.—Suits soon to be filed by Attorney General Hogan against the Pennsylvania and other railroads of the Central Passenger Association, charging an attempt to control passenger traffic, are the direct outcome of the association's refusal to grant reduced rates for Eagles National Convention here.

The Eagles' convention early next month will attract 75,000 persons to Cleveland. The C. P. A., roads combined in refusing reduced rates to delegates. Attorney General Hogan here today conferred with the Eagles' arrangements committee, said this was a violation of the state anti-trust law.

BOXER UPRISINGS

Are Again Causing Great Alarm Throughout China

Shanghai, July 25.—Boxerism is developing alarmingly in parts of interior China, according to uncountr reports today. The nation is not settling down as was hoped for the republic. Outlawry and official troubles are rampant. Many Chinese attribute this to adverse foreign influence. This is responsible for a growing anti-foreign sentiment. It may result any time in violence.

WEARS BADGE UPON NIGHTIE FOR PRIZE

(By United Press.)

Cleveland, O., July 26.—Over at Harrod, Allen county, where the ill-fated night shirt is still in vogue, lives Noah Boiler, who pines that he is going to walk off with the first prize to be awarded by the Eagles for the continuous wearing of Cleveland convention buttons.

Boiler is a member of Lima lodge of Eagles. Three months ago Charles P. Salen, arranging for a grand asie meeting here in August, mailed out convention buttons with a notice that twenty-five men, aggregating $200, would be given for the continuous wearing of buttons.

I sleep," said Boiler when he received the shining button, with ribbon pendant. Each night he pins the button carefully on his night shirt. Every morning before he makes a break for the tin wash basin, on the back porch, Boiler fastens the button to his work fastens the button to Cleveland. Before coming to Cleveland, Boiler will go before Squire Leath-erman at Harrod and make affidavit that he has worn the button continuously since he received it.

The button prize will only be a small portion of the amount to be given away during the convention. Prizes to be given for automobile and motorcycle races will make the total more than $10,000.

ANOTHER ECHO OF A COLLEGE SCANDAL(By United Press.)
Oxford, O., July 26.—Dr. Hugh C. Moore, of this city, today declared that Miami university was not involved in two suits for $20,000 each, which he has filed against President Guy Potter Benton, of the University of Vermont, who formerly was the head of Miami. The suits filed yesterday at Burlington, Vermont, by Dr. Moore's attorneys allege false arrest and malicious prosecution, growing out of a case which attracted wide attention months ago.

On November 24, 1910, Dr. Moore was arrested on a charge of illicitly selling whiskey at his drug store in Oxford. President Benton prosecuted the case, declaring that whiskey had been supplied to students. A magistrate fined Dr. Moore $50 and costs. The common pleas court refused to reverse the finding, but in the circuit court Dr. Moore was acquitted. Benton left Miami university last year.

BULL MOOSE MEETS IN BUCKEYE STATE

Marion, O., July 26.—The Republican Central Committee met again last night and, with Roosevelt followers in control, the Taft Executive Committee, elected last week, was withdrawn. A new committee, controlled by the Roosevelt faction, was elected. The new list includes C. L. Allen, a Roosevelt leader.

AT SPRINGFIELD.
Springfield, O., July 26.—Members of the Progressive Republican party held a meeting Thursday afternoon on the lawn at the home of Harry Frey and selected delegates and alternates to a Seventh District Convention which will be held here Friday morning at 11 o'clock, when delegates will be elected to the national convention at Chicago.

CRIPPLED FOR LIFE.

(By United Press.)
Cleveland, O., July 26.—Surgeons at a Cleveland hospital today said that Floyd Ebert, 27, who was shot by police in a raid at a beer party early Wednesday near Ashland, probably will be permanently paralyzed from the waist down. As Ebert was running from the officers, he was shot in the back. A bullet severed his spinal cord above the fifth vertebra.

QUITE A TOWN

(By United Press.)
Chicago, July 25.—This city has increased 196,417 in population since 1910 according to estimates by city school enumerators who place the present population at 2,851,711.SPRINGFIELD GIRLS TRAVEL AS HOBOS.

Springfield, O., July 26.—After traveling about the country on the bumpers in a true hobo style, Ida Freeman, 16 years old, and Ida Canteen, 17, were brought back here today by Juvenile Court Officer John Parsons from Auburn, Ind., where they were arrested and held for the Springfield authorities.

The girls wore male attire and had been over Michigan and as far west as Chicago when caught. Several times they were arrested, but released when it became known that they were girls instead of young men.

Dread Enemies of Criminals

Left to right: Inspector Hughes, Burns, Dougherty and Hughes are considered the shrewdest police detectives in the country, while Burns is probably the greatest private sleuth.

Angry Farmers Search For Murderer of an Innocent Little GirlHERE'S LOVE SCHEDULE
IN THE WINDY CITY.Chicago, July 26.—For a kiss, $100.
For pinching girl's arm, $50.
For a wink, $50.
For each addition at wink, $25.
For covert glances, $10.
For ditto glance accompanied by a "good afternoon," $50.
With a schedule of almost prohibitive prices, Judge Scully has started a real war on masers in South Chicago. There doubtless are other methods of flirting that are not in the schedule now, the judge explained, but they will be added as cases come to his notice.
The schedule was prepared by Judge Scully after he heard the evidence in the case of Michael Reiminski, who, it was shown, gently closed his thumb and forefinger—just so—upon the left arm of Miss Theresa Chemma.STATE DREDGE TO DO WORK AT DELPHOS

Delphos, O., July 26.—(Special)—A. J. States, member of the State Board of Public Works, was in Delphos Thursday, on business in connection with the dredging of the Miami & Erie canal through Delphos, which will be done soon. His mission here was that of learning what arrangements might be made to dispose of the ground to be taken out of the channel of the canal when the workmen reach here.

Three dredges are now operating at Deep Cut, just south of Spencerville and working rapidly this way. Mr. States is of the opinion that the dredges will be in Delphos by October 1st. The canal will be dredged from the reservoir to a point north of Delphos, where the water will be run from the canal into Jennings creek and from there into the Auglaize river at Ft. Jennings.

THIS "ANGEL CHILD" IS A HORSE THIEF(By United Press.)
Pittsburg, July 26.—"Bertie" Lovell, 8, of McKeesport, Pa., nicknamed by the police "the angel child" is locked up here today charged with horse stealing. Shy of car fare to get back home yesterday Bertie in turn stole two delivery outfits.

Also last week, the "angel child" stole two horses and while awaiting trial temporarily, escaped the probation officer.

(By United Press.)
Carmel, Maine, July 26.—Enraged farmers who refused to accept deputy sheriff commissions, preferring to take the law in their own hands, today searched for a farm hand, formerly an inmate of an asylum, suspected of the brutal murder of Naomi Eula Mitchell, 14 years old, whose shockingly mutilated body was found last night in a corn field 400 yards from her home. The little girl's murder was a striking parallel of the Julia Connors case.

With her throat cut from ear to ear, so deep that the knife severed the handkerchief used to gag the child, the body was found almost nude and bearing many signs of violence. The hands were tied behind her back and it was evident that she had made a desperate struggle.

The girl was one of eleven children, all younger than herself, and she had been the little mother of the brood during the illness of Mrs. Mitchell. The suspected farm hand was in a village store when Naomi was seen there shortly before her body was found, and he has not been seen since.

JUDGE DECLARES

White Plains, N. Y., July 26.

—Harry K. Thaw was held to be still insane by Justice Keogh in his decision handed down this afternoon in the late habeas corpus case.

MIKADO CONTINUES TO GROW WEAKER(By United Press.)
Tokio, July 26.—The Mikado is weaker today. Otherwise his condition is unchanged. His wife and the crown prince are constantly at his bedside. Other members of the imperial family and all high state officials are either at the palace or in readiness to respond instantly to summons to go there.

The end is looked for at any moment. Prince Kaisura has telegraphed that he is returning from St. Petersburg. The first bulletin posted today said the Mikado's temperature was 100.4 at 6 a. m., his pulse, 100.

CALLED MEETING.

A called meeting of Stella Rebekah lodge, Friday evening, July 26th, for team practice and other business. By order of the Noble Grand.

DEER-SOAKED CLEVELAND

Columbus, O., July 26.—Cleveland is far more nearly a deer-soaked city than is Cincinnati, although the city on the hill by the lake has enjoyed the sport of poking fun at Cincinnati for its fondness for hops. The receipt in the State Treasurer's office prove the allegation. Cleveland today paid six months Alkin tax and turned $323,954.20 into the State Treasury. Cincinnati trailed last week with only $228,000. Cleveland pays three tenths of the entire state.

CHECK WORKER IS AT IT IN OTTAWA(By United Press.)
Ottawa, July 26.—Mr. J. O. Carthwright, shoe merchant here, was the victim of a check worker. As he was about to close his store Wednesday night, a man entered to buy shoes saying he was employed on the Wm. Stechschulte farm and his employer sent him there. The shoes fitted, he gave a check payable to Henry A. Ackerman, signed Wm. Stechschulte, for $22. Mr. Carthwright kept $4 for the shoes giving back the change. He did not discover the forgery till Thursday afternoon. The man was about 45 years of age, had dark hair and mustache touched with grey, was dressed as a laborer in dark clothes. No clue so far.

DELEGATES NAMED

To National Meeting of Moose in Kansas City, Mo.
David Rosenheim was last night elected representative to the 24th annual convention of the Supreme lodge of the world, Loyal Order of Moose. H. L. Conrad was elected alternate. The convention will be in session at Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 19 to 23, inclusive.

The convention will be the most largely attended of any meeting of any of the large fraternal bodies held in the United States for years. Over 500,000 members will be present and delegates will be present from almost every country of the world. Lima Lodge will issue a deluxe souvenir for distribution at the convention that will give publicity to Lima industries in word and picture.

CATHOLICS INCREASING.

(By United Press.)
London, July 26.—Because their religion forbids race suicide and their children are consequently much more numerous than in protestant families, Roman Catholics are gradually making a catholic country of the United States, Dr. F. L. Hoffman, of Newark, N. J., told the International Eugenics Congress today.SMOKY CITY

ISHES UNDER PROTEC-TION OF POLICE.

(By United Press.)

Pittsburg, Pa., July 26.—The voters' league, prosecutors of public safety director Morin on charges of malfeasance of office, expected today to finish the presentation of evidence showing that the social evil has flourished in this city under police protection. Special prosecutor Well said he had fully as sensational evidence as that of yesterday when a settlement worker swore he wanted an inspector of police and policemen keeping in line men who wanted to enter a disorderly house during last exposition week.

The ministers and social workers behind the probe placed great reliance today on the good moral effect of Cleveland's police chief "Golden Rule" Kohler's story of how the social evil was mitigated in the Forest city by methods of police repression rather than by arresting and fining inmates.

The defense is expected to offer evidence to show that the number of disorderly houses has been reduced under Morin's administration.

LAFOLLETTE'S WOOL
BILL PASSES SENATE

Washington, July 26.—The regular Republican members of the Senate were given a rude last night when ten progressives joined with the Democrats and passed the LaFollette woolen tariff revision bill as a substitute for the Democratic measure framed by the House, when a bill introduced by Senator Penrose that had already passed the Senate as a Committee of the Whole, seemed certain of passage.

The McCumber reciprocity amendment was defeated. Senator Clapp objected to again attacking the amendment for the repeal of the reciprocity law to the tariff bill. He said he did not want to be understood, however, as favoring the reciprocity act, which he believed the President had forced the Senate to pass "with the barrel of a patronage."

BELLEFONTAINE HAS POISON TONGUE CASE

Bellefontaine, O., July 26.—Gossiping tongues have been busy in Bellefontaine for several weeks discussing certain hearsay happenings in the community. Many names of prominent men, men well known in the business and professional walks of the city, have been connected with the scandalous stories.

The persistence of those who have circulated the stories has been remarkable. There has been no let-up to the discussion, although many different names have been used as the story has passed through various hands.

Hugh M. Annat, dry goods merchant of Bellefontaine, is one of those whose names have been mentioned in the circulation of the false reports. On Thursday Mr. Annat filed a damage suit in Common Pleas Court against Harmon Elliot, residing on south Madriver street, charging him with circulating a damaging statement against him.

CARS COLLIDE

Three Passengers Hurt, One Probably Fatally, in the Crash.
Springfield, O., July 26.—Two street cars on the city line collided at 12 o'clock last night on west Main street.

Three passengers were seriously hurt, one of them, Adam Blougher, probably fatally. The other two were Miss Laura Christ and Charles Mudge.

The motorman on the rear car claims his brakes refused to work. The injured have been taken to the city hospital. Several others were hurt, but they were able to walk to their homes.

DOUBLE PLAYS CROPPED OUT YESTERDAY

(By L. N. Frisco.)

Old double play kicked the pace for the Wrigley hosts, May p. m., 6-8. Thrice with a favorable opportunity, one of Zeke's dropped to the plate and Jimmings by banging away into the plate. In the second inning with the pillows, Chic Long drove one at Burkel and the opportunity flickered out. In the fifth Chic on by virtue of a pass—"Whitely" Guess snuffed the ball by driving to McClintock. McDonable, however, was the opportunity lost in the ninth. With Daubert and West congested the two-plays and one shunted the boards, Trusty Tom Rail-as subpoenaed as a live-saver mounted to the gunning and after fouling off one, laid a well-knit frame against the mitt. The ball shot straight down, who grabbed it and home, getting Nesser. Rail-as caught at first. The game ended on the ninth.

or to this ill-fated stanza, "Guess" had been clubbed often by the visiting Naiters. The first, Mr. Jackley, (state the pitchers will have a sigh of relief when he leaves us,) smote to deep center for a triple and when Billy West juggled and of Burkel's fly. Hits by McClintock, Taylor and Jackley scored in the third. Doubles by Ep-and Jackley and a single by three counted two others in the th. Two errors followed by McClintock's single registered Burkel in the eighth.

ster Burden was somewhat of a stigma to the locals, at that, boys had a sweet but abbreviated feast in the fourth when runs were harvested. With two Frank Nesser doubled wick-to center. Harry Daubert nessed Burden and drove a one over first for a triple, ing Nesser. Harry scored on's single to left. Burke tripled the sixth and tallied the other of Zeke's solid knock.

her opportunities were rare. was given onlookish support all stages, while Burden was in faultless style.

Harry Daubert and Jackley were hitting scintillators of the bat. Harry in four trials, found a, a double and a three cushion. Jackley got the same.

Veteran Goes; Youngster Succeeds.

Time of Game Changed To 3 O'clock At Ball Yard

Beginning Saturday afternoon, all games at the local park will start sharply at 3 o'clock. Club owners and Manager Zeke Wrigley reached this conclusion yesterday after much experimenting along this line. For the past two months games were called at 2:30 to permit, so Secretary Kaufman believed, business and professional men to attend. The response was not gratifying. The attendance did not pick up and in order to give the faithful an opportunity for an early supper, games will be started at 3 o'clock for the remainder of the season. 3 o'clock is the popular time.

A casual observance of the Iron-ton Nailers yesterday afternoon was convincing that Peggy Moore has an aggregation of stars under his wing. Though scintillating, the visiting club is rather unwieldy at present and it is predicted that they will develop as the season progresses. Once Peggy gets them in hand, they'll put up a sharp fight with any club on the circuit.

No, gentle fan, the tiny speck of humanity hidden beneath a wind-pad and mask that roamed about the landscape ever and anon and at whom players and fans occasionally directed flows of oratory was not a will-o-the-wisp. It was merely our new nump, Mr. Benedict. Physically, "Benny" is about the size of a bar of soap. His right arm is off at the elbow, due to a railroad accident several years ago, but he is right there on the umpirical job. Yesterday, he was forced to dodge around the stupendous personage of Mr. Jackley in order to judge plays at the plate but at that, he got away good. There were a few kicks on his flappings, but on the whole he umpired a good game.

The Stogies didn't annex a base during the game for the first time in many days. McClintock and Taylor purloined for the visitors.

"Spikes" McClintock was given an ovation when he stepped to the plate in the first innings. Local fans remember "Spikes" for his many deeds on the local diamonds of yore and he is as popular as ever. He is putting up a great game for the Nailers and is field captain of the crew.

The game was a long-drawn-out affair going two hours and five minutes.

The same clubs combat today. Radding will likely leave for the locals today, while Peggy Moore, himself, may slab for the visitors.

COMMENT.

Charlie O'Day took the Hoosiers in hand yesterday and broke the losing streak. Hixon pitched O'Day's team to victory, 2-1, permitting but five hits.

Johnny Daly went hitless yesterday in the Athletic-Browns double header. He handled ten chances without a slip up though and stole a base.

Lee Fohl broke over the traces at Erie yesterday when he punched 3 home runs in a single game. He also made a single and won the game for his club, 9-2.

Although he held the Zanesville team to three hits, Bill Riley, Lima, boy with the Canton club, lost his game, simply because his opponent went him two better, and held the Canton boys to a single bluff.

Newark won from Chillicothe 6 to 1. Kearns was outpitched by Frank Jarman, but luck broke nicely for him. All the Moulders' runs were made in the sixth.

The dangerous battery, Messrs Black and Blue, beat up the Cobs in the twelfth inning of yesterday's game. Black pitched and Blue caught. Whalen's double and Schlegel's single in the twelfth won a 1-0 game. Eddie Hartwig hurled for the Cobs.

Big League Dope

Mr. Gregg, of Cleveland, handed a goose-egg to the Red Sox, permitting only four hits. The leaders started on a long western trip today.

Pittsburg had 54 men at bat in the fourteen inning contest with Brooklyn which the Pirates won, 5 to 7.

Terrible Ping Bodie and mighty Matty McIntyre smashed a two bager and single respectively in the tenth inning, winning the game from the Yankees.

The Champions and the Browns divided a double header at close scores, which is some satisfaction to the basement boys.

Gandill, Washington's sensational first sacker, featured the double header split with Detroit, both at bat and in the field.

Cobb copped four hits out of eight times up, helping a bit for an off day.

Alumsmith insisted on debating with the umpire over a strike and got a trip to the bench for his oratory.

The Cubs came to New York determined to give the Giants a hot scrap in their own little polo grounds.

FORMER STATER JOINS CHATTANOOGA CLUB.

Chattanooga, Tenn. July 26.—Upon recommendation of Manager Hughey Jennings, of Detroit, the local club today signed Outfielder Don Hamilton, the well-known college star, of Notre Dame.

Hamilton formerly played in the Ohio State league.

MCCORMICK TO MANAGE.

Newark, O., July 26.—Barry McCormick, who recently was relieved of the management of the Mansfield club, returns tomorrow to the Ohio State League as manager of the Newark team. He will succeed S. Murray.

CALLAHAN PAYS $8,000 FOR LIMA CATCHER.

Jimmy Callahan has succeeded in getting Robert Wells, the crack backstop of the Jersey City club of the International league, paying $8,000 for him. He will report at the close of the International league season. Four years ago Wells, then a kid of nineteen years, received a trial with Jimmy McAleers St. Louis Browns. He failed to make good because of greenness. This year her has surprised the fans of the International league and has attracted the attention of the big league scouts.

The Browns, White Sox, Highlanders, Cubs and Cardinals were trying to get Wells, and it became an auction sale. The backstop going to the White Sox because Comiskey was willing to pay the price for him.

Wells lived in Lima, before he began his professional career.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 26.—There is not the slightest doubt in the mind of John J. McGraw that his Giants will win the National league pennant again and that later they will take the worlds series. Haroute from Toronto to New York early today McGraw said:
"We would win from the Athletics of last fall without much trouble right now and whether the Athletics or the Boston Red Sox, as now seems probable, confront us in the fall, you can gamble a bit that we will win."

"But supposing Chicago beats you out?" was suggested.
"Now, say," said McGraw, "I didn't tell them to put me off at Buffalo to hand that sort of talk."

DOUBLE PLAYS CROPPED OUT YESTERDAY

Veteran Goes; Youngster Succeeds.

(By L. N. Frisco.)
The old double play kicked the new for the Wrigley hosts, today p. m., 6-8. Thrice with a double and a favorable opportunity, one of Zeke's double plays cropped out. The first was by Zeke's double play to the plate and Jimmie by banging away into the hole. In the second inning with the pitcher, Chic Long drove one at Burkel and the opportunity flickered out. In the fifth inning by virtue of a pass, "Whitely" Guese snuffed the ball by driving to McClintock. McClintock, however, was the opportunity lost in the ninth. With the pitcher, Daubert and West congested the two-paths and one shunted the boards. Trusty Tom Rail- as subpoenaed as a live-saver mounted to the gunning and after fouling off one, laid a well-knit frame against the pitcher. The ball shot straight at the catcher, who grabbed it and home, getting Nesser. Rail- as caught at first. The game ended on the ninth.
or to this ill-fated stanza, "Guese had been clubbed often by the visiting Naiters. The first, Mr. Jackley, (state the pitcher will leave a sigh of relief when he leaves us,) smote to deep center for a triple and when Billy West juggled and of Burkel's fly. Hits by Mc- clintock, Taylor and Jackley scored in the third. Doubles by Ep- and Jackley and a single by Nesser counted two others in the th. Two errors followed by McClintock's single registered Bur- den in the eighth.
ster Burden was somewhat of a stigma to the locals, at that. Boys had a sweet but abbre- viated feast in the fourth when runs were harvested. With two Frank Nesser doubled wick- to center. Harry Daubert missed Burden and drove a one over first for a triple, Nesser. Harry scored on a single to left. Burke tripled the sixth and tallied the other of Zeke's solid knock.
her opportunities were rare. She was given onlookish support in stages, while Burden was in a faultless style.
Harry Daubert and Jackley were hitting scintillators of the bat- tery in four trials, found a double, a double and a three cush- Jackley got the same.

Charley Street, the Yankee catcher and formerly of Washington, has been sold to the Providence club of the International league. Street is a veteran catcher who gained fame several years ago by catching a base ball dropped from the top of the Washington monument. Since, he has been sold to New York. Sweet- ny is shown on the right. Sweeney is the brilliant young receiver who has been catching the bulk of the games for the Yanks this season. He promises to develop into one of the best in the business.

Time of Game Changed To 3 O'clock At Ball Yard

Beginning Saturday afternoon, all games at the local park will start sharply at 3 o'clock. Club owners and Manager Zeke Wrigley reached this conclusion yesterday after much experimenting along this line. For the past two months games were called at 2:30 to permit, so Secretary Kaufman be- lieved, business and professional men to attend. The response was not gratifying. The attendance did not pick up and in order to give the faithful an opportunity for an early supper, games will be started at 3 o'clock for the remainder of the season. 3 o'clock is the popular time.

A casual observance of the Iron- ton Nailers yesterday afternoon was convincing that Peggy Moore has an aggregation of stars under his wing. Though scintillating, the visiting club is rather unwieldy at present and it is predicted that they will develop as the season progresses. Once Peggy gets them in hand, they'll put up a sharp fight with any club on the circuit.

No, gentle fan, the tiny speck of humanity hidden beneath a wind-pad and mask that roamed about the landscape ever and anon and at whom players and fans occasionally directed flows of oratory was not a will-o-the-wisp. It was merely our new nump, Mr. Ben- edict. Physically, "Benny" is about the size of a bar of soap. His right arm is off at the elbow, due to a railroad accident several years ago, but he is right there on the umpiring job. Yesterday, he was forced to dodge around the stu- pendous personage of Mr. Jackley in order to judge plays at the plate but at that, he got away good. There were a few kicks on his find- ings, but on the whole he umpired a good game.

The Stogies didn't annex a base during the game for the first time in many days. McClintock and Taylor purloined for the visitors.

"Spike" McClintock was given an ovation when he stepped to the plate in the first innings. Local fans remember "Spike" for his many deeds on the local diamonds of yore and he is as popular as ever. He is putting up a great game for the Nailers and is field captain of the crew.

The game was a long-drawn-out affair going two hours and five minutes.
The same clubs combat today. Radding will likely leave for the locals today, while Peggy Moore, himself, may slab for the visitors.

COMMENT.

Charlie O'Day took the Hoosiers in hand yesterday and broke the losing streak. Hixon pitched O'Day's team to victory, 2-1, per- mitting but five hits.

Johnny Daly went hitless yester- day in the Athletic-Browns double header. He handled ten chances without a slip up though and stole a base.

Lee Fohl broke over the traces at Erie yesterday when he punched 3 home runs in a single game. He also made a single and won the game for his club, 9-2.

Although he held the Zanesville team to three hits, Bill Riley, Lima, boy with the Canton club, lost his game, simply because his opponent went him two better, and held the Canton boys to a single bluff.

Newark won from Chillicothe 6 to 1. Kearns was outpitched by Frank Jarman, but luck broke nicely for him. All the Moulders' runs were made in the sixth.

Big League Dope

Mr. Gregg, of Cleveland, handed a goose-egg to the Red Sox, permit- ting only four hits. The leaders started on a long western trip to- day.

Pittsburg had 54 men at bat in the fourteen inning contest with Brooklyn which the Pirates won, 5 to 7.

Terrible Ping Bodie and mighty Matty McIntyre smashed a two bager and single respectively in the tenth inning, winning the game from the Yankees.

The Champions and the Browns divided a double header at close scores, which is some satisfaction to the basement boys.

Gandill, Washington's sensa- tional first sacker, featured the double header split with Detroit, both at bat and in the field.

Cobb copped four hits out of eight times up, helping a bit for an off day.

Alumsmith insisted on debating with the umpire over a strike and got a trip to the bench for his oratory.

The Cubs came to New York de- termined to give the Giants a hot scrap in their own little polo grounds.

Chattanooga, Tenn. July 26.— Upon recommendation of Manager Hughey Jennings, of Detroit, the local club today signed Outfielder Don Hamilton, the well-known col- lege star, of Notre Dame.

Hamilton formerly played in the Ohio State league.

MCCORMICK TO MANAGE.

Newark, O., July 26.—Barry Mc- Cormick, who recently was relieved of the management of the Mansfield club, returns tomorrow to the Ohio State League as manager of the Newark team. He will succeed S. Murray.

CALLAHAN PAYS $8,000 FOR LIMA CATCHER.

Jimmy Callahan has suc- ceeded in getting Robert Wells, the crack backstop of the Jersey City club of the International league, paying $8,000 for him. He will report at the close of the Interna- tional league season. Four years ago Wells, then a kid of nineteen years, received a trial with Jimmy McAleers St. Louis Browns. He failed to make good because of green- ness. This year her has sur- prised the fans of the Inter- national league and has at- tracted the attention of the big league scouts.

The Browns, White Sox, Highlanders, Cubs and Card- nals were trying to get Wells, and it became an auction sale. The backstop going to the White Sox because Comiskey was willing to pay the price for him.

ARREST POSTAL CLERK FOR STEALING MONEY FROM LETTERS IN MAIL

Serious Charges to be Faced by Oscar L. Miller, Who Had a Run Between This City and Cincinnati, on C. H. & D.

Oscar L. Miller, 28, a postal clerk who has been on a run between this city and Cincinnati, on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad, and whose home is at New Carlisle, O., was arrested by postoffice inspectors Griswold and Owen yesterday, charged with rifling letters in the United States mail. He was unable to give bond in the sum of $1,000 and was locked up in the Miami county jail at Troy, after being bound over to the Federal grand jury.

It is said that the postoffice officials secured a confession from Miller. They say that when they arrested him yesterday at the C. H. & D. depot in Cincinnati, they found $10 in marked money in his pockets and 27 rifled letters in a satchel which he had in his possession.

According to the confession said to have been made by Miller, he began the theft of money from letters only about three weeks ago, and in that time had taken about $200. He told the officials that his wife and two-months-old baby had been ill for some time past and that he needed the money to pay doctor bills, etc.

It is said that Miller's arrest was brought about through the recognition of his handwriting on a plain envelope which had been used, allegedly by him, in the forwarding to the addressee a letter that had been rifled of money. It appears that rifled letters were taken to Cincinnati, placed in plain envelopes and re-sent from the postoffice there. Because most of the letters were from parties in Florida to firms in Detroit the Cincinnati postmark on the letters led immediately to investigation by Cincinnati officials. Besides Inspectors Owen and Griswold, Inspectors Hoddin, of Portsmouth, Smith, of Athens, and Perkins, of Toledo, worked on the case.

Miller received his permanent appointment to the railway mail service on January 8, 1909, and for a long time was stationed at Dayton, as transfer clerk. He was promoted to the run between Cincinnati and Lima only a few months ago.

Stomach Trouble of 12 Years' Standing Gives Way to Duffy's

MR. FRED F. ZINK.

Mrs. Fred F. Zink, 2335 Saratoga St., New Orleans, La., writes of the great good done her husband—

"My husband suffered with stomach trouble for over 12 years, during which time he doctored with three doctors who gave him no relief. He kept growing worse, had to be very careful as to what he ate, as things always soured on his stomach, but, thank God, after taking three bottles of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey he was entirely cured. He still takes it as a tonic and we would never be without it. He now looks fine and weighs 180 pounds. I can highly recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach trouble."

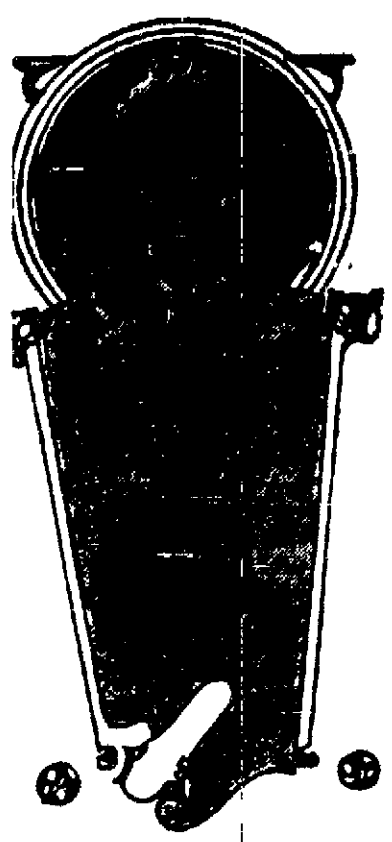

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Few diseases inflict upon their victims greater suffering than do dyspepsia, indigestion and other stomach troubles. If you have dyspepsia or indigestion in any form you should use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Its action is most natural. When taken at mealtime it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment.

Sold in sealed bottles only by druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1.00 a large bottle. Be sure you get Duffy's and that the seal over the cork is intact. Our doctors will send you advice free, together with a valuable medical booklet on application.

JOY RIDE IN AIR

HALIME TWOMBLY.

Little ten year old Halime Twombly, whose father William Irving Twombly, has just received an aviator's license, made one of the most hair-raising flights that any aeroplane passenger at the Mineola, L. I. aviation field has ever had the distinction of enjoying. She flew with George W. Beatty in a Wright biplane. Beatty took his tiny, but fearless companion, to a height of 500 feet, and then began a series of aerial evolutions that would have caused some seasoned aviators to beg him to descend. But not little Halime. She fairly squealed with delight when her pilot brought the machine about at perilous angles causing it to almost stand on end in the air. After fifteen minutes of this trying he brought the little lady back to the ground, and she hopped out calm and untroubled to tell her papa about the "fine breeze up there."

Hints to Loveless Gents.

If she makes a practice of eating onions for supper every time you call, it is a sign that she is indifferent toward your suit.

If you spend a lot of money sending flowers to her every day it may make a hit with her, but she will marry somebody who has more sense.

Don't talk to her about love in a cottage. Talk about a brownstone bungalow and seeing the cottage on her after you get her.

If she is handsome, tell her about it, and if she isn't, tell her anyway.

Have an automobile catalogue in your coat pocket where she can catch a glimpse of it.

BUNNY BEAT THE MOTOR CAR

Rabbit Ran So Fast the Chauffeur Had to Speed to Keep Him in Sight.

The scene was on the road to Point Place. Illuminations were furnished by the moon and stars. Besides the rabbit and the auto there were one man and two girls, also a chauffeur.

The big automobile was speeding along the highway, sending its white light ahead, when suddenly right across the path of the rays from the head lamps shot a young rabbit. The chauffeur slackened speed, hating to hurt the little creature, and then the rabbit hopped back into the center of the road again, gave one look into the blinding glare of the lamps and started the race.

Straight down the center of the smooth, white highway he shot on ahead of the car, and the chauffeur speeded up a bit just to see how fast the race was going to be, but he could not catch the rabbit, not by ten feet. That little critter's feet went so fast there did not seem to be any there, and just a speck where the long ears bobbed with the motion of his little body and a brown blur of hair.

And still he ran, on and on, keeping his distance ahead of the big machine as if the light had hypnotized him and he could not stop, while behind in the car big, lassy pursuers laughed and watched and begged the chauffeur not to run him down. There was no such chance.

The rabbit was too quick. When he was tired of the sport he hopped to one side of the road as the car went by, tipped up his tiny head and winked out of one pink eye as he looked at the speeder and its occupants with a quizzical curve of his little mouth.—Toledo Blade.

The cause of death was heart disease.

THACKERAY AS A REPORTER.

Future Great Novelist Just the Man to Enjoy Such Spicy Repartees as the Following.

Thackeray once acted as police reporter for the London Dialect, and performed his work in no perfunctory way. How the future novelist must have enjoyed observing and recording this bit of courtroom humor:

Pat Fogarty went off the way from Manchester to London in order to thrash Mick Fitzpatrick, who he did, winding up the performance with the assistance of an "awful" "arsehoe." He was detected and brought before Mr. Justice Stimpelman.

"Well, sir," began the court, "you came here from Manchester, did you?"

"Your honor has answered correct."

"You see the complainant's head; it was cut by a sharp instrument. Do you know what cut it?"

"Ain't your honor after sayin' that a sharp instrument did?"

"The locomotive, per honor."

"Equivocating again, you scoundrel!" said the court, waxing warm. Raising up the horseshoe, and holding it before Pat, he said, "Do you see this horseshoe, sir?"

"Is it a horseshoe, yer honor?"

"Bodad, no, yer honor."

"No?" angrily.

"No, yer honor; but can yer self tell?"

"Of course I can, you stupid Irishman."

"Oh, glory be to goodness, see what education is!" colloquized Pat, aloud. "Sure, yer honor, a poor, ignorant creature like meself wouldn't know a horse's shoe from a mare's."—Youth's Companion.

BULL MOOSE READY TO NAME A TICKET

ROOSEVELT BOOMERS IN FOURTH DISTRICT DESIGNATE ROWLANDS.

That the Bull Moose will throw a district and possibly a partial county ticket into the field, is the statement of a Roosevelt leader to The News.

"We only await the action of the Chicago convention week after next and then we will start things. The boys have picked J. W. Rowlands as the nominee for Congress in the Fourth district against Goeke, and he has a chance to win, too. We haven't discussed a county ticket but many endorse some of the republicans and one or two democrats."

Roosevelt headquarters are still being maintained and the leaders are relying upon a strong support from The Republican-Gazette which is designated as the official Bull Moose organ in Northwestern Ohio.

START IN TO CRACK EVERY SAFE IN VERMILION, OHIO.

THEY ESCAPE AFTER A RUNNING BATTLE WITH POSSE OF CITIZENS.

Vermilion, O., July 26.—A gang of at least seven crackmen posted outlooks throughout the business section of Vermilion early today and then started out to loot every safe in the district, beginning with the post office.

They had blown up the post office safe, obtaining $100 in stamps, looted the till in the clothing store of Louis Engleby, and were working on the safe in the grocery of Under and Seely when they were discovered. A telephone operator gave the alarm. The crackmen fought a battle with the Marshall and citizens, but they all escaped on a passing freight train.

Thackeray once acted as police reporter for the London Dialect, and performed his work in no perfunctory way. How the future novelist must have enjoyed observing and recording this bit of courtroom humor:

Pat Fogarty went off the way from Manchester to London in order to thrash Mick Fitzpatrick, who he did, winding up the performance with the assistance of an "awful" "arsehoe." He was detected and brought before Mr. Justice Stimpelman.

"Well, sir," began the court, "you came here from Manchester, did you?"

"Your honor has answered correct."

"You see the complainant's head; it was cut by a sharp instrument. Do you know what cut it?"

"Ain't your honor after sayin' that a sharp instrument did?"

"The locomotive, per honor."

"Equivocating again, you scoundrel!" said the court, waxing warm. Raising up the horseshoe, and holding it before Pat, he said, "Do you see this horseshoe, sir?"

"Is it a horseshoe, yer honor?"

"Bodad, no, yer honor."

"No?" angrily.

"No, yer honor; but can yer self tell?"

"Of course I can, you stupid Irishman."

ARREST POSTAL CLERK FOR STEALING MONEY FROM LETTERS IN MAIL

Serious Charges to be Faced by Oscar L. Miller, Who Had a Run Between This City and Cincinnati, on C. H. & D.

Oscar L. Miller, 28, a postal clerk who has been on a run between this city and Cincinnati, on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad, and whose home is at New Carlisle, O., was arrested by postoffice inspectors Griswold and Owen yesterday, charged with rifling letters in the United States mail. He was unable to give bond in the sum of $1,000 and was locked up in the Miami county jail at Troy, after being bound over to the Federal grand jury.

It is said that the postoffice officials secured a confession from Miller. They say that when they arrested him yesterday at the C. H. & D. depot in Cincinnati, they found $10 in marked money in his pockets and 27 rifled letters in a satchel which he had in his possession.

According to the confession said to have been made by Miller, he began the theft of money from letters only about three weeks ago, and in that time had taken about $200. He told the officials that his wife and two-months-old baby had been ill for some time past and that he needed the money to pay doctor bills, etc.

It is said that Miller's arrest was brought about through the recognition of his handwriting on a plain envelope which had been used, allegedly by him, in the forwarding to the addressee a letter that had been rifled of money. It appears that rifled letters were taken to Cincinnati, placed in plain envelopes and re-sent from the postoffice there. Because most of the letters were from parties in Florida to firms in Detroit the Cincinnati postmark on the letters led immediately to investigation by Cincinnati officials. Besides Inspectors Owen and Griswold, Inspectors Hoddin, of Portsmouth, Smith, of Athens, and Perkins, of Toledo, worked on the case.

Miller received his permanent appointment to the railway mail service on January 8, 1909, and for a long time was stationed at Dayton, as transfer clerk. He was promoted to the run between Cincinnati and Lima only a few months ago.

Stomach Trouble of 12 Years' Standing Gives Way to Duffy's

MR. FRED F. ZINK.

Mrs. Fred F. Zink, 2335 Saratoga St., New Orleans, La., writes of the great good done her husband.

"My husband suffered with stomach trouble for over 12 years, during which time he doctored with three doctors who gave him no relief. He kept growing worse, had to be very careful as to what he ate, as things always soured on his stomach, but, thank God, after taking three bottles of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey he was entirely cured. He still takes it as a tonic and we would never be without it. He now looks fine and weighs 180 pounds. I can highly recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach trouble."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Few diseases inflict upon their victims greater suffering than do dyspepsia, indigestion and other stomach troubles. If you have dyspepsia or indigestion in any form you should use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Its action is most natural. When taken at mealtime it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment.

Sold in sealed bottles only by druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1.00 a large bottle. Be sure you get Duffy's and that the seal over the cork is intact. Our doctors will send you advice free, together with a valuable medical booklet on application.

BUNNY BEAT THE MOTOR CAR

Rabbit Ran So Fast the Chauffeur Had to Speed to Keep Him in Sight.

The scene was on the road to Point Place. Illuminations were furnished by the moon and stars. Besides the rabbit and the auto there were one man and two girls, also a chauffeur.

The big automobile was speeding along the highway, sending its white light ahead, when suddenly right across the path of the rays from the head lamps shot a young rabbit. The chauffeur slackened speed, hating to hurt the little creature, and then the rabbit hopped back into the center of the road again, gave one look into the blinding glare of the lamps and started the race.

Straight down the center of the smooth, white highway he shot on ahead of the car, and the chauffeur speeded up a bit just to see how fast the race was going to be, but he could not catch the rabbit, not by ten feet. That little critter's feet went so fast there did not seem to be any there, and just a speck where the long ears bobbed with the motion of his little body and a brown blur of hair.

And still he ran, on and on, keeping his distance ahead of the big machine as if the light had hypnotized him and he could not stop, while behind in the car big, lassy pursuers laughed and watched and begged the chauffeur not to run him down. There was no such chance.

The rabbit was too quick. When he was tired of the sport he hopped to one side of the road as the car went by, tipped up his tiny head and winked out of one pink eye as he looked at the speeder and its occupants with a quizzical curve of his little mouth. —Toledo Blade.

JOY RIDE IN AIR

HALIME TWOMBLY.

Little ten year old Halime Twombly, whose father William Irving Twombly, has just received an aviator's license, made one of the most hair-raising flights that any aeroplane passenger at the Mineola, L. I. aviation field has ever had the distinction of enjoying. She flew with George W. Beatty in a Wright biplane. Beatty took his tiny, but fearless companion, to a height of 500 feet, and then began a series of aerial evolutions that would have caused some seasoned aviators to beg him to descend. But not little Halime. She fairly squealed with delight when her pilot brought the machine about at perilous angles causing it to almost stand on end in the air. After fifteen minutes of this trying he brought the little lady back to the ground, and she hopped out calm and untroubled to tell her papa about the "fine breeze up there."

Hints to Loveless Gents.

If she makes a practice of eating onions for supper every time you call, it is a sign that she is indifferent toward your suit.

If you spend a lot of money sending flowers to her every day it may make a hit with her, but she will marry somebody who has more sense.

Don't talk to her about love in a cottage. Talk about a brownstone bungalow and seeing the cottage on her after you get her.

If she is handsome, tell her about it, and if she isn't, tell her anyway.

Have an automobile catalogue in your coat pocket where she can catch a glimpse of it.

ROOSEVELT BOOMERS IN FOURTH DISTRICT DESIGNATE ROWLANDS.

That the Bull Moose will throw a district and possibly a partial county ticket into the field, is the statement of a Roosevelt leader to The News.

"We only await the action of the Chicago convention week after next and then we will start things. The boys have picked J. W. Rowlands as the nominee for Congress in the Fourth district against Goeke, and he has a chance to win, too. We haven't discussed a county ticket but many endorse some of the republicans and one or two democrats."

They had blown up the post office safe, obtaining $100 in stamps, looted the till in the clothing store of Louis Engleby, and were working on the safe in the grocery of Under and Seely when they were discovered. A telephone operator gave the alarm. The crackmen fought a battle with the Marshall and citizens, but they all escaped on a passing freight train.

Three days out from Hongkong on the steamer Chyo Maru, bound for San Francisco, the little American had just initiated her new found friend, a stately English woman, into the subtle mysteries of the gum chewing art. For a full moment the novice chewed in silence, then: "Fancy," she exclaimed, still chewing, "how foolish one must feel, forever chewing and never swallowing!"

Work for Each.

No one of my fellows can do that special work for me which I have come into the world to do; he may do a higher work, but he cannot do my work I cannot hand over my work to him, any more than I can hand over my responsibilities or my gifts. I must do . . . my work I may do little or I may do much. That matters not. It must be my own work.—Ruskin.

HEAT STROKE

KILLS WELL KNOWN MILLER—TRACTION LINE PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Special to The News.

St. Mary's July 26.—Florenz Garman, president of the Lock Two Grain and Milling Co., died at his home in Lock Two at one o'clock Wednesday night, following a brief illness from internal hemorrhage, caused from a sunstroke he suffered Wednesday morning. Mr. Garman had been in his usual health prior to the attack, but sank rapidly following the heat stroke, despite the best of medical attention.

Prospects are very good for the proposed traction extension from Ft. Loramie to Covington there to connect with the D. C. and P., for direct line to Dayton. The distance is 16.6 miles and the estimated cost $360,000 of this amount $260,000 can be sold in bonds after $100,000 in stock has been subscribed. The Dayton Commercial club has agreed to take $75,000 of the stock, the remainder to be raised in towns along the new track.

GOLFERS GATHER.

(By United Press.)

Cleveland, O., July 26.—Railroad executives and other men of wide reputation, members of the Midlothian Golf Club of Chicago, will come here tomorrow and spend Sunday on the Preserves of the Euclid Country Club. The visitors, who will sleep in tents, include George Nicholson, vice president Santa Fe and W. B. Biddle, vice president of the Frisco lines.

THAT FATAL SKID

(By United Press.)

Denver, July 25.—Driving at the rate of a mile a minute an automobile returning from Sand Creek early today skidded, turned turtle, killing one unidentified woman and causing probably fatal injuries to two men. Fred Graham and Edward Krite are unconscious at a hospital both with fractured skulls.

GRAFT

CHARGES MADE AGAINST LICE COMMISSIONER ARE DENIED.

LIEUT. COSTIGAN SAYS HE NOT DECLARE TOWN WIDE OPEN.

(By United Press.)

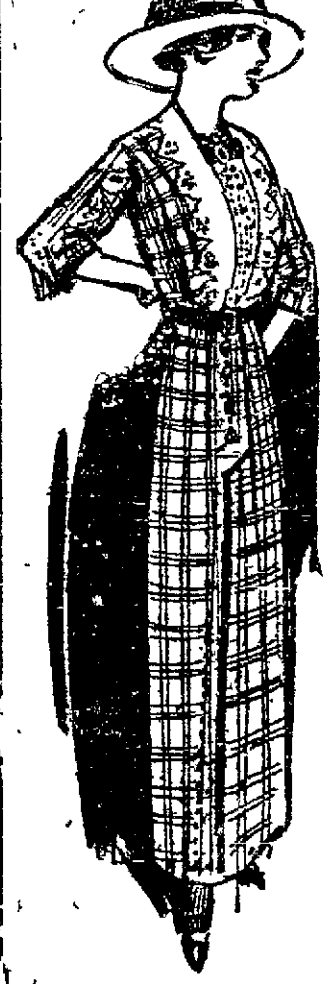

New York, July 26.—Police Commissioner Rhinelander Waldo arrived at headquarters considerably earlier than usual today plainly agitated at the statements in the newspapers, emanating from the district attorney's office that Lieut. Dan Costigan had told the grand jury that the commission was in charge of the gambling situation in New York that the town was never so wide open as now and that no gambling house could run a day without police graft.

But the commissioner did not get down earlier than did Lieut. Costigan and the two went into a hurried conference, after which Waldo asserted that Costigan had denied telling the grand jury anything like what was in the published accounts.

"The statements attributed to Lieut. Costigan are false, each and every one of them," Commissioner Waldo said, as he came out of his private office and the lieutenant nodded his head in assent.

Weary Willies Walked Boldly From Workhouse

Hardly had they become acclimated to their luxurious surroundings on the city stone pile until they were seized with an irresistible hankering for the road, and three weary knights of the pompous unceremoniously left the city work house, late Thursday afternoon without so much as saying "good bye."

The three "weary willies" walked boldly from the work house into the main corridor of the city building under the pretense that they wanted a drink of water. Police saw nothing strange in their actions. They were merely thirsty tramps who had just been "pinned" by Lake Erie and Western Detective Hurlinger for train climbing at Spencerville. The village's chief executive sent them to the Lima workhouse for seven days.

Their guide worked to a finish. Secretly they crept into the toilet room at headquarters. A window opening into another yard presented an alluring temptation. Back of them was the monotonous task of making little stones out of big ones. In front of them was the wide, wide world and freedom. The temptation was irresistible. And they fell.

Gratifyingly they stole out of the side window, dashed across the yard in the rear of the residence of Harry Jennings, 213 east High street, and escaped. At roll call there were three missing faces from the stone pile.

Mrs. Harry Jennings witnessed

the escape. She saw the men climb from the window, but took no cognizance of the incident, not really knowing it was a jail delivery. Later when questioned, she told the police the story, and a pursuit was made. The three were not captured.

Detective Hurlinger arrested the men near Spencerville Thursday morning. They appeared to be terrified fellows, merely out of a job. They were committed to the workhouse Thursday afternoon on cracked stone for less than an hour. There is no clue to their whereabouts.

TART DENOUNCED.

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, July 26.—Resolutions denouncing President Taft and endorsing Col. Roosevelt were adopted at a meeting of the Republican county central committee after a physical struggle that threatened to leave many of the committeemen injured badly. The reasons favoring Roosevelt men as legislative candidates were adopted.

NEIGHBORHOOD ROW.

Alleging that she disturbed the peace and tranquility of the neighborhood by boisterous, profane and obscene language and by incessant harrassing of neighbors, Mrs. Stella Buck this morning preferred charges against Mrs. Bertha Shaw, a neighbor. The affidavit was sworn in mayor's court. The two live on south Central avenue.

DEFENDS NEGRO

ATTY. GEN. WICKERSHAM.

It is the intention of Attorney General Wickersham to go to Milwaukee next month to make a personal plea for the retention in the American Bar Association of his negro assistant attorney general, William H. Lewis, of Boston. If he fails, it is generally believed Wickersham will tender his resignation from the association. The fight between the southern and western delegates against Attorney General Wickersham over the colored lawyer promises to be the liveliest feature of the convention of the Association.

CONGRESSMAN GIVES WILSON WORD LASHING

AND BRYAN IS ANNOUNCED THE MODERN PRINCE OF ALL PERFDITY.

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 26.—Woodrow Wilson, anti-Jefferson, anti-foreign, anti-labor, anti-soldier and presidential candidate for the presidency was how the democratic nominee was branded today in the house by Representative Wm. A. Rodenburg (Rep. Ill.) in a pro-Taft campaign speech. The address was based upon the book-public letters and addresses of the Democratic nominee and was the first of a series of Republican campaign speeches against the New Jersey governor.

Besides denouncing Wilson, Rodenburg violently assailed Bryan and in lauding Clark, branded as "the acme of perfidy" Bryan's betrayal of the speaker. Most of Rodenburg's speech included quotations from Wilson's history of American people which the members said, was written ten years ago, before the Prince ever thought of the white house.

"Should the mantle of the immortal Jefferson rest upon the narrow but classic shoulders of the Princeton professor," Rodenburg said.

"Jefferson was taken advantage of, for if given an opportunity he would certainly have protested vigorously, for here is what Wilson said Jefferson was: 'An aristocrat, who deliberately practiced the arts of a politician. Washington found him a guide who needed watching.'"

Rodenburg then quoted Wilson's alleged attack upon foreign immigrants in which Wilson said: "This coarse crew came crowding in every year at the eastern ports. 'I resent the charge,' the member declared 'made by Prof. Wilson that American workmen were driven to make demands upon congress for this legislation because of their fear of the superior skill and intelligence of the Chinese.'"

Rodenburg quoted from Wilson's Baccalaureate sermon at Princeton three years ago on organized labor.

"I do not agree with Prof. Wilson," he continued, "that members of trades unions are unprofitable servants. I do not believe the union man is trying to give as little as he may for his wages."

Rodenburg next read Wilson's eulogy of President Cleveland for his veto of pension bills, that such legislation was "an unjustifiable use of public money and a gross use of charity."

"Prof. Wilson may have experienced a change of heart," Rodenburg added, "when he himself applied to Andrew Carnegie for a pension, based upon 'mere service' as an educator."

Then Rodenburg turned his shafts upon Bryan declaring: "For sixteen long and weary years he has been democracy's old man of the sea. In utter disregard of every consideration of decency and fair play, he succeeded in robbing Speaker Clark of the nomination. The impartial historian will write of his base betrayal at Baltimore as marking the very acme of perfidy, the culmination of political treachery."

Hunter Describes the Clever Work of a Hungry Bear in Catching a Salmon.

One year, the berries being destroyed, many bears visited the river for fish. I was walking up the river shore one evening about sunset watching for a deer. Rounding a bend I saw, perched upon a flat rock some few feet from the shore, a large black bear. I could not tell at first what he was doing. He was stooping down with one paw in the water waving it gently to and fro. I watched closely and saw, just beyond his reach, a large male salmon, so nearly dead that he could not swim. The bear was using his paw to create an eddy which would draw the fish within his grasp. Slowly the salmon drifted toward the rock.

It was amusing to watch how carefully the bear moved his paw so as not to frighten his prey. At last the fish came within reach. Bruin reached over, gave it a quick slap, seized it in his jaws and leaped ashore. The whole performance tickled me so that I let him go off, the salmon dangling in his mouth, without even taking a shot at him.—Charles Stuart Moody in the Outing Magazine.

PUBLIC CAN'T HEAR TRIAL OF MRS. GRACE

Atlanta, Ga., July 26.—Atlanta's society, eagerly looking forward to the trial of Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace for assault with attempt to kill her husband, was disappointed today when Judge L. S. Roan practically decided to exclude the public from his court room.

The cramped dingy room where the wife must answer to the charge of shooting Grace seats only 125 persons.

Hundreds have already applied to the court officials for "cards of admission." Judge Roan frowned on a plan to rent the city auditorium and force Mrs. Grace publicly to play her part in the tragedy.

Definition of the Beau.

A beau is one who arranges his curled locks gracefully, who ever smells of balms and cinnamon, who hums the songs of the Nile and Cadiz, who throws his sleek arms into various attitudes, who idles away the whole day among the chairs of the ladies, who is ever whispering in some one's ear, who reads little billets-doux from this quarter and that, and writes them in return; who avoids ruffling his dress by contact with his neighbor's sleeve, who knows with whom everybody is in love; who flutters from feast to feast; who can recount exactly the pedigree of Hippolitus. What do you tell me, is this a beau, Cotillus? Then a beau, Cotillus, is a very trifling thing.

Many honest men have been driven into infidelity because of the misrepresentation of the Bible by those claiming to be its friends. Hear the beautiful and harmonious analysis of the Scriptural proof—a wonderful defense of the Scripture by Judge Rutherford Sunday afternoon. 7-26-22

TINNER NOW SEATED ON THE STONE PILE

For commercializing intoxicants in the city of Bluffton—two years ago, Harry Bennett, 26, a tinner, took a seat on the city stone pile this morning to serve a sentence of 205 days in lieu of his inability to pay a fine of $75.00 and costs, aggregating $125.00.

Bennett was convicted two years ago by the mayor of Bluffton. He appealed the case and obtained a habeas corpus. Recently, the circuit court sustained the mayor's finding and Bennett will have to serve the sentence.

Witche picked a pocket. The suspect evidently took some other route, for he was not on the supposed train.

PYTHIANS HAD GREAT OUTING

CITY PARK WAS SCENE OF ONE OF THE MOST ENJOYABLE OF PICNICS.

The members of Lima Lodge No. 91, Knights of Pythias, enjoyed their annual outing yesterday afternoon, holding a picnic for members and their wives and families at the City Park. The attendance was large and wholesome amusement was rife throughout the few short hours that the event was under way.

A baseball game played by teams which were captained by Norman Townsend and J. W. Tucker, was one of the features of the day. The umpire, O. O. Barr, was only mobbed five times during the contest and the game was finally finished with a low score of 23 to 32, with the Townsend team having the 32 to its credit. It is alleged, however, that the scorekeeper, registered two runs each time a Townsend runner crossed the plate. Dr. Oliver Steinor was the star pitcher for the Tucker aggregation and Captain Townsend was the feature slab artist for his own team, keeping all of the numerous hits made by the Tuckerites bunched in center field. After the baseball game was over the Knights and their ladies gathered at a long row of tables, at which a great feast had been spread from the well filled baskets which the ladies had prepared. The supper, like all other features of the outing, was greatly enjoyed.

MILK INSPECTION IS NO FUN

Incident Showing How Hard It is to Force Sanitary Rules on Dirty People.

The trials and tribulations of a milk inspector trying to force insanitary people to live according to sanitary rules are shown in the issue of the Healthologist, the official organ of the Milwaukee health department. The story follows:

A Milwaukee milk inspector during a farm inspection, came upon a place hopelessly filthy, disorderly and run down. A motherly person with a big heart, but firm and world convictions, listened to the young man's suggestions. Then looking over her spectacles pityingly, she said:

"Boy, my mother was ninety-seven years old when she died. She was dirtier than I am, and lived in a dirtier house and drank dirtier milk. If she could stand it I guess there ain't no reason why I and the city folks that get milk from this farm can't stand it too."

And not being able to answer that argument, the milk inspector left her—kindly, withal, but yet voicing her indignation over "them there new fangled ideas of cleanliness."

Weary Willies Walked Boldly From Workhouse

Hardly had they become acclimated to their luxurious surroundings on the city stone pile until they were seized with an irresistible hankering for the road, and three weary knights of the pompous unceremoniously left the city work house, late Thursday afternoon without so much as saying "good bye."

The three "weary willies" walked boldly from the work house into the main corridor of the city building under the pretense that they wanted a drink of water. Police saw nothing strange in their actions. They were merely thirsty tramps who had just been "piled" by Lake Erie and Western Detective Hurlinger for train climbing at Spencerville. The village's chief executive sent them to the Lima workhouse for seven days.

Their guide worked to a finish. Secretly they crept into the toilet room at headquarters. A window opening into another yard presented an alluring temptation. Back of them was the monotonous task of making little stones out of big ones. In front of them was the wide, wide world and freedom. The temptation was irresistible. And they fell.

Gratifyingly they stole out of the side window, dashed across the yard in the rear of the residence of Harry Jennings, 213 east High street, and escaped. At roll call there were three missing faces from the stone pile.

Mrs. Harry Jennings witnessed

the escape. She saw the men climb from the window, but took no cognizance of the incident, not really knowing it was a jail delivery. Later when questioned, she told the police the story, and a pursuit was made. The three were not captured.

Detective Hurlinger arrested the men near Spencerville Thursday morning. They appeared to be terrified fellows, merely out of a job. They were committed to the workhouse Thursday afternoon on cracked stone for less than an hour. There is no clue to their whereabouts.

ATTY. GEN. WICKERSHAM.

It is the intention of Attorney General Wickersham to go to Milwaukee next month to make a personal plea for the retention in the American Bar Association of his negro assistant attorney general, William H. The fight between the southern and western delegates against Attorney General Wickersham over the colored lawyer promises to be the liveliest feature of the convention of the Association.

CONGRESSMAN GIVES WILSON WORD LASHING

AND BRYAN IS ANNOUNCED THE MODERN PRINCE OF ALL PERFDY.

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 26.—Woodrow Wilson, anti-Jefferson, anti-foreign, anti-labor, anti-soldier and presidential candidate for the presidency was how the democratic nominee was branded today in the house by Representative Wm. A. Rodenburg (Rep. Ill.) in a pro-Taft campaign speech. The address was based upon the book-public letters and addresses of the Democratic nominee and was the first of a series of Republican campaign speeches against the New Jersey governor.

Besides denouncing Wilson, Rodenburg violently assailed Bryan and in lauding Clark, branded as "the acme of perfidy" Bryan's betrayal of the speaker. Most of Rodenburg's speech included quotations from Wilson's history of American people which the members said, was written ten years ago, before the Prince ever thought of the white house.

"Should the mantle of the immortal Jefferson rest upon the narrow but classic shoulders of the Princeton professor," Rodenburg said.

Rodenburg then quoted Wilson's alleged attack upon foreign immigrants in which Wilson said: "This coarse crew came crowding in every year at the eastern ports. 'I resent the charge,' the member declared 'made by Prof. Wilson that American workmen were driven to make demands upon congress for this legislation because of their fear of the superior skill and intelligence of the Chinese.'"

Rodenburg quoted from Wilson's Baccalaureate sermon at Princeton three years ago on organized labor.

"I do not agree with Prof. Wilson," he continued, "that members of trades unions are unprofitable servants. I do not believe the union man is trying to give as little as he may for his wages."

Rodenburg next read Wilson's eulogy of President Cleveland for his veto of pension bills, that such legislation was "an unjustifiable use of public money and a gross use of charity."

"Prof. Wilson may have experienced a change of heart," Rodenburg added, "when he himself applied to Andrew Carnegie for a pension, based upon 'mere service' as an educator."

Then Rodenburg turned his shafts upon Bryan declaring: "For sixteen long and weary years he has been democracy's old man of the sea. In utter disregard of every consideration of decency and fair play, he succeeded in robbing Speaker Clark of the nomination. The impartial historian will write of his base betrayal at Baltimore as marking the very acme of perfidy, the culmination of political treachery."

Hunter Describes the Clever Work of a Hungry Bear in Catching a Salmon.

One year, the berries being destroyed, many bears visited the river for fish. I was walking up the river shore one evening about sunset watching for a deer. Rounding a bend I saw, perched upon a flat rock some few feet from the shore, a large black bear. I could not tell at first what he was doing. He was stooping down with one paw in the water waving it gently to and fro. I watched closely and saw, just beyond his reach, a large male salmon, so nearly dead that he could not swim. The bear was using his paw to create an eddy which would draw the fish within his grasp. Slowly the salmon drifted toward the rock.

It was amusing to watch how carefully the bear moved his paw so as not to frighten his prey. At last the fish came within reach. Bruin reached over, gave it a quick slap, seized it in his jaws and leaped ashore. The whole performance tickled me so that I let him go off, the salmon dangling in his mouth, without even taking a shot at him.—Charles Stuart Moody in the Outing Magazine.

PUBLIC CAN'T HEAR TRIAL OF MRS. GRACE

Atlanta, Ga., July 26.—Atlanta's society, eagerly looking forward to the trial of Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace for assault with attempt to kill her husband, was disappointed today when Judge L. S. Roan practically decided to exclude the public from his court room.

The cramped dingy room where the wife must answer to the charge of shooting Grace seats only 125 persons.

Hundreds have already applied to the court officials for "cards of admission." Judge Roan frowned on a plan to rent the city auditorium and force Mrs. Grace publicly to play her part in the tragedy.

Definition of the Beau.

A beau is one who arranges his curled locks gracefully, who ever smells of balms and cinnamon, who hums the songs of the Nile and Cadiz, who throws his sleek arms into various attitudes, who idles away the whole day among the chairs of the ladies, who is ever whispering in some one's ear, who reads little billets-doux from this quarter and that, and writes them in return; who avoids ruffling his dress by contact with his neighbor's sleeve, who knows with whom everybody is in love; who flutters from feast to feast; who can recount exactly the pedigree of Hippolus. What do you tell me, is this a beau, Cotillus? Then a beau, Cotillus, is a very trifling thing.

Many honest men have been driven into infidelity because of the misrepresentation of the Bible by those claiming to be its friends. Hear the beautiful and harmonious analysis of the Scriptural proof—a wonderful defense of the Scripture by Judge Rutherford Sunday afternoon. 7-26-12

Bennett was convicted two years ago by the mayor of Bluffton. He appealed the case and obtained a habeas corpus. Recently, the circuit court sustained the mayor's finding and Bennett will have to serve the sentence.

RIGHT IS ON AT COLUMBUS TWIXT CHIEFS

Warring Factions of Democracy At Capitol

LEY AND ZEITS REPRESENT
MACHINE. LINDEMANN
AND HUGHES ANTIS.

The warring factions of the democracy in Allen county are reported in Columbus this afternoon at the meeting of the democratic state central committee which has been called together to determine whether the machine executive committee or the anti-machine committee shall have recognition and be allowed to name candidate for membership on county board of deputy state officers of elections.

Leaders of the machine crowd leaders of the anti-machine crowd left for the capital city this morning, some of them going over Pennsylvania and Hocking Valleys and others leaving here 7.15 o'clock over the Ohio electric. The state committee was called to meet at the Neil house at 10 o'clock this afternoon, at which time the Allen county mud-was to be taken up for a hearing.

Among those who went to Columbus to present the two sides of controversy to the state committee were Messrs. C. D. Crites, F. Lindemann, Kent, W. Hughes and Judge John N. Hutchins, representing the anti-machine side of the party, and Ben. F. Welty and Fred W. Zeits, representing the local county machine. Messrs. Welty and Zeits are expected to present the machine's case and Messrs. Lindemann and Hughes will argue for the anti-machine crowd. If the state committee will hear the case as the machine representatives hope to be able to present it, the story of the fight from the time the mud of elections threw out 42 candidates of democratic candidates committee men and delegates upon the action of the machine men in violating the peace agreement which was entered into in Welty's case, will be related in detail.

The machine men have the advantage of having the legal status of the situation in their favor and this reason it is believed the state central committee will sustain the machine organization. This committee will represent that its executive and county central committees are the legally and regularly chosen organizations on the ground that the machine elected 34 of 53 county central committee men at the May primaries election the machine executive committee by a vote of 34 to 19 in the meeting of the county central committee.

This is the first time a woman has sought to enter this race. Mme. COPPER LOST SOME OF HIS BRASS TAGS

"If it is proper for safety director Blank to suspend an officer for failing to run through a freight train why should he not suspend an officer for losing two or three of the brass buttons off his uniform coat in an unsuccessful effort to arrest a one hundred and ten pound youth?" was a question asked by a city official on the street today.

Inquiry brought forth the statement that police Mahan, one of Blank's appointees, in an attempt to arrest "Dunk" Hughes, a well known young man of north Main street, lost some of his brass "tags" and did not succeed in landing his intended victim.

NOTIFY MARSHALL ABOUT AUGUST 17

(By United Press.)
Seagirt, July 26.—It was learned today that Governor Thomas Riley, Marshall of Indiana will be notified probably about August 17 at Indianapolis, that he was nominated by the Democrats for vice president and Governor Wilson probably will attend the ceremonies. Judge Alton B. Parker, chairman of the vice presidential notification committee, is in communication with Chairman McCombs and Gov. Marshall, arranging the details.

Gov. Wilson was expected to come out of his speech-writing retirement late tomorrow or Sunday. He will be notified at the "Little White House," Aug. 7. Ollie James, chairman of the Wilson notification committee will be here next week and members of the campaign committee who will meet Monday in New York are expected to visit Seagirt.

PROGRESSIVES NOT TO HAVE A PLATFORM

INSTEAD THEY WILL DRAW UP A "CONTRACT WITH THE PEOPLE."

Chicago, July 26.—There will be no platform adopted at the National convention of progressives it was learned today. Instead the leaders of the progressive movement will present to the convention for adoption, a "contract with the people," and a promise to live up to the contract.

This contract will pledge the support of the party to "restore representative government." It will contain the party service upon the initiative, recall, referendum, direct primaries, direct election of senators and "general social reforms to improve living conditions."

A remedy to the high cost of living likely will not be offered in the contract. The convention is expected also to take no action upon the question of the unemployed.

At progressive headquarters today Medill McCormick gave out the following telegram which he received from Col. Roosevelt:

"I am exceedingly pleased with the progressive spirit in Illinois and I congratulate the men of Illinois in the courage they have shown in this movement. On the eve of the meeting of your great state and county conventions, I wish through you most heartily to wish them well. Their steadfastness and energy have been of prime importance as examples to the entire country."

"They have met the issues exactly right. They are working in Illinois to nominate candidates for the governorship and for the other state offices, who, elected by the people will stand up on progressive National and state platforms for the fundamental principles of popular government. These candidates nominated at the Republican primaries in Illinois who cast their lot with the fraudulently nominated candidate of an illegally constituted Republican convention, have lost support in the perpetration of a great fraud upon the nation."

DR. W. S. RAINSFORD QUITS THE MINISTRY

The other day William S. Rainford walked into the study of Bishop Greer and demanded that he be deposed from the Episcopal ministry. His only explanation was that he would not return to the pulpit. Under the canonical law Bishop Greer was obliged to comply with his request. Stern, tight-lipped, dominant, Rainford turned on his heel and walked out as he had entered—alone.

For thirteen years Rainford, as rector of St. George's church, had without question been the most important minister of any faith in New York. One day, without foreword or explanation, he resigned. His friends said that he was in ill health. Hard on the heels of that statement, Rainford left for a hunting trip through East Africa, a task that would tax the strength and endurance of any man. From time to time he has returned to outfit for another expedition. Now he is to head a party sent out by the American Museum of Natural History and will spend three more years in African jungles. He is strong as a bull moose, he singles with nervous force, he could run in a Marathon or fight in the ring—and he can keep his secret. What ever it is, it is his alone. No one has ever shared it.

Rainford had attracted attention in Toronto by the virility and splendor and unconventionality of his ministry. Old St. George's church in New York was about to be abandoned, when J. Pierpont Morgan sent for Rainford to rejuvenate it. Other eminent ministers had refused the task.

"I will take it," said Rainford, "on three conditions. The church must be absolutely free. You must buy out those pewholders who will not surrender their seats. I must have $10,000 a year to spend as I please, apart from my salary, which you may fix to suit yourself. All committees save that of the vestry must be abolished."

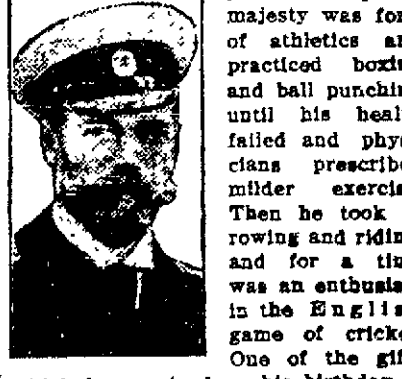

"Done," said Morgan.

The church had been burdened with a floating debt. It was spiritually dead. Rainford left it the liveliest of the diocese, with an endowment of $400,000, and had raised $2,500,000 for its support. He went into the back rooms of saloons and brought his recruits to his classes. Until they learned that the rector could fight as well as he could pray, there was a fight every Sunday. Rainford always won. He charmed the poor girls away from the vice dance halls by opening a dancing floor in the parish house and danced with them himself. An apostle of the poor, and almost a socialist in his personal views, he made St. George's the largest parish in the country with a membership of more than five thousand. Its social centers are the busiest on the east side. The intellectuals from university and slum gathered to hear him preach.

Then—one day—he walked out. From that day he has elected to be stern and silent and self-centered—a determined exile from his home. No one knows why. Behind that protective shell of silence is there a tragedy concealed?

CZAR NICHOLAS ATTACKED BY "BASEBALL FEVER"

Czar Nicholas is the latest notable to succumb to "ball fever." In his youth his imperial majesty was fond of athletics and practiced boxing and ball punching until his health failed and physical ailments prescribed milder exercise.

Then he took to rowing and riding, and for a time was an enthusiast in the English game of cricket. One of the gifts which he received on his birthday, a year or so ago, was a baseball set, handsomely mounted and with the imperial monogram done in gold on the handle of the bat. Next day the czar had a diamond laid out within the palace grounds and tried his hand at batting and pitching. He did well for a novice and enjoyed the play immensely.

The son of the gaskwar of Baroda, who learned to play baseball, among other things, while at school in the United States, got up a team when he was in St. Petersburg a couple of months ago. He is now carrying the fame of the game with him to Oxford, in England, where he is continuing his Occidental studies. The Indian prince is a good all-round athlete. In his first Oxford cricket match he tallied 21, not out, in a little more than an hour, thus proving that a baseball player can handle an English cricket bat with little trouble. The ball set now being used by the czar was the gift of the gaskwar's son.

BLOCK OF ZEKE WRIGLEY CLAIMS TWO VICTIMS.

TOM PLUMMER AND "WHITEY" GUESSE ARE HANDED PINK SLIPS.

The final fall of the axe came on Zeke Wrigley's surplus playing material this morning and two heads were dropped from the block. Out-fighter Tom Plummer, the Spencer-ville lad, and "Whitey" Guesse, veteran Wapakoneta hailer, were given the pink slips. The cut was made in order to bring the team down to playing strength and within the limit prescribed by Ohio State league magnates. Wrigley had sixteen men under contract, two more than is permitted in the state league constitution. Last night, he received word from Secretary Quinn to cut his staff, and Plummer and Guesse went.

Plummer joined the squad at Marion during their hard luck trip several weeks ago. He has played a great game, but "Smoke" Hobbs has recovered from his injuries and room must be made for the speed boy. For several days he has warmed the bench.

Guesse pitched good ball for five games, but his arm refused to yield to treatment, and his last two games have been failures. With the reinstatement of Ray Clarke to service, the veteran was permitted to go. Wrigley now has a competent staff in Munk, Schanze, Railing and Clarke. Hobbs is also eligible for the pitching staff as was attested by his brilliant work in two games at Chillicothe.

Manager Wrigley stated this afternoon that he would make an effort to land Plummer a job on Bob Read's umpiring staff. Tom has had considerable experience in this line of work and would no doubt make the league a competent arbitrator.

Who is this man Rutherford that is going to lecture here? He is a celebrated lawyer and a lecturer on the Bible. It will pay you to hear him.

TREY COURTED TROUBLE WITH MACHINE GUN AND SEVEN ARE KILLED.

(By United Press.)
Charleston, W. Va., July 26.—A state of guerrilla warfare in which dozens of men may have been slain and wounded by rifle bullets and dynamite, stretched for twelve miles back from the mouth of the Paint Creek today.

Two Baldwin detectives were fatally shot last night from ambush while riding on a hand car. One report reached here at noon today that seven of the Baldwin men and three miners had been killed when an attacking force swooped down on the Baldwins, operating a machine gun and exploded a dynamite bomb.

The state authorities were powerless, not even being able, to get meagre details of the awful slaughter which they are certain resulted from the numerous pitched battles along the creek.

Governor Glasscock and his subordinates exhausted every means in an effort to get troops to the scene. The Governor telegraphed to Mt. Gretna, Pa., where the West Virginia militia is in camp, ordering Major James T. Pratt to hasten to Paint Creek with an entire battalion.

In the meantime Adjutant General C. D. Elliott divided his company of sixty-four men, at Peytonia, where he went following the shooting of a deputy sheriff Tuesday night and sent a detachment to the mouth of the creek by way of St. Albans and Charleston.

All communication with the Paint Creek district from its mouth for miles back was cut off, except as some courier broke through the brush with a fresh story of awful carnage.

An alleged prowler who attempted to force an entrance to the home of Mrs. Braska Zimmerman, 945 north West street at 12.30 this morning, scurried for cover before the arrival of the police. Mrs. Zimmerman was awakened by a disturbance at the rear of her home and claims to have seen the form of a man hidden in the shadows. The fellow left no clue.

"Where are the Dead?" That is it, go and hear Judge Rutherford, he will tell you and it won't cost you anything.

Warring Factions of Democracy At Capitol

LEY AND ZEITS REPRESENT
MACHINE. LINDEMANN
AND HUGHES ANTIS.

The warring factions of the democracy in Allen county are reported in Columbus this afternoon at the meeting of the democratic state central committee which has been called together to determine whether the machine executive committee or the anti-machine committee shall have recognition and be allowed to name a candidate for membership on county board of deputy state officers of elections.

Among those who went to Columbus to present the two sides of controversy to the state committee were Messrs. C. D. Crites, F. Lindemann, Kent, W. Hughes and Judge John N. Hutchins, representing the anti-machine side of the party, and Ben. F. Welty and Fred W. Zeits, representing the local county machine side. Welty and Zeits are expected to present the machine's case and Messrs. Lindemann and Hughes will argue for the anti-machine crowd. If the state committee will hear the case as the machine representatives hope to be able to present it, the story of the fight from the time the ward of elections threw out 42 nominations of democratic candidates and delegates upon the action of the machine men in the action of the peace agreement which was entered into in Welty's office, will be related in detail.

The machine men have the advantage of having the legal status of the situation in their favor and this reason it is believed the state central committee will sustain the machine organization. This committee will represent that its executive and county central committees are the legally and regularly chosen organizations on the ground that the machine elected 34 of 53 county central committee men at the May primaries election the machine executive committee by a vote of 34 to 19 in the meeting of the county central committee.

Mme. Helene Dutrieu, considered the most accomplished woman aviator in France, has applied for permission to enter the International Cup Race for the world's championship, at Chicago, September 9. This is the first time a woman has sought to enter this race. Mme. Dutrieu cannot be entered as a member of the regular French team, whose pilots have already been named, but she may be allowed to enter as an independent contestant. The matter has been referred to the Aero Club of America.

COPPER LOST SOME OF HIS BRASS TAGS

"If it is proper for safety director Blank to suspend an officer for failing to run through a freight train why should he not suspend an officer for losing two or three of the brass buttons off his uniform coat in an unsuccessful effort to arrest a one hundred and ten pound youth?" was a question asked by a city official on the street today.

Inquiry brought forth the statement that police Mahan, one of Blank's appointees, in an attempt to arrest "Dunk" Hughes, a well known young man of north Main street, lost some of his brass "tags" and did not succeed in landing his intended victim.

(By United Press.)
Seagirt, July 26.—It was learned today that Governor Thomas Riley, Marshall of Indiana will be notified probably about August 17 at Indianapolis, that he was nominated by the Democrats for vice president and Governor Wilson probably will attend the ceremonies. Judge Alton B. Parker, chairman of the vice presidential notification committee, is in communication with Chairman McCombs and Gov. Marshall, arranging the details. Gov. Wilson was expected to come out of his speech-writing retirement late tomorrow or Sunday. He will be notified at the "Little White House," Aug. 7. Ollie James, chairman of the Wilson notification committee will be here next week and members of the campaign committee who will meet Monday in New York are expected to visit Seagirt.

Huntington, W. Va., July 26.—A special train on the Guyan Valley branch of the Chesapeake and Ohio bearing President George W. Stevens, Fourth Vice President Caples, Superintendent Carey and other officials of the system, was derailed and wrecked at an early hour this morning near Barboursville. The train was proceeding cautiously owing to the impaired condition of the track resulting from the recent heavy rains and it was due to this fact that the accident did not result in fatalities.

PROGRESSIVES NOT TO HAVE A PLATFORM

INSTEAD THEY WILL DRAW UP A "CONTRACT WITH THE PEOPLE."

Chicago, July 26.—There will be no platform adopted at the National convention of progressives it was learned today. Instead the leaders of the progressive movement will present to the convention for adoption, a "contract with the people," and a promise to live up to the contract.

This contract will pledge the support of the party to "restore representative government." It will contain the party service upon the initiative, recall, referendum, direct primaries, direct election of senators and "general social reforms to improve living conditions."

A remedy to the high cost of living likely will not be offered in the contract. The convention is expected also to take no action upon the question of the unemployed.

At progressive headquarters today Medill McCormick gave out the following telegram which he received from Col. Roosevelt:

"I am exceedingly pleased with the progressive spirit in Illinois and I congratulate the men of Illinois in the courage they have shown in this movement. On the eve of the meeting of your great state and county conventions, I wish through you most heartily to wish them well. Their steadfastness and energy have been of prime importance as examples to the entire country."

"They have met the issues exactly right. They are working in Illinois to nominate candidates for the governorship and for the other state offices, who, elected by the people will stand up on progressive National and state platforms for the fundamental principles of popular government. These candidates nominated at the Republican primaries in Illinois who cast their lot with the fraudulently nominated candidate of an illegally constituted Republican convention, have lost support in the perpetration of a great fraud upon the nation."

DR. W. S. RAINSFORD QUITS THE MINISTRY

The other day William S. Rainford walked into the study of Bishop Greer and demanded that he be deposed from the Episcopal ministry.

His only explanation was that he would not return to the pulpit. Under the canonical law Bishop Greer was obliged to comply with his request. Stern, tight-lipped, dominant, Rainford turned on his heel and walked out as he had entered—alone.

For thirteen years Rainford, as rector of St. George's church, had without question been the most important minister of any faith in New York. One day, without foreword or explanation, he resigned. His friends said that he was in ill health. Hard on the heels of that statement, Rainford left for a hunting trip through East Africa, a task that would tax the strength and endurance of any man. From time to time he has returned to outfit for another expedition. Now he is to head a party sent out by the American Museum of Natural History and will spend three more years in African jungles.

He is strong as a bull moose, he singles with nervous force, he could run in a Marathon or fight in the ring—and he can keep his secret. What ever it is, it is his alone. No one has ever shared it.

Rainford had attracted attention in Toronto by the virility and splendor and unconventionality of his ministry. Old St. George's church in New York was about to be abandoned, when J. Pierpont Morgan sent for Rainford to rejuvenate it. Other eminent ministers had refused the task.

"I will take it," said Rainford, "on three conditions. The church must be absolutely free. You must buy out those pewholders who will not surrender their seats. I must have $10,000 a year to spend as I please, apart from my salary, which you may fix to suit yourself. All committees save that of the vestry must be abolished."

"Done," said Morgan.

The church had been burdened with a floating debt. It was spiritually dead. Rainford left it the liveliest of the diocese, with an endowment of $400,000, and had raised $2,500,000 for its support. He went into the back rooms of saloons and brought his recruits to his classes. Until they learned that the rector could fight as well as he could pray, there was a fight every Sunday. Rainford always won. He charmed the poor girls away from the vice dance halls by opening a dancing floor in the parish house and danced with them himself. An apostle of the poor, and almost a socialist in his personal views, he made St. George's the largest parish in the country with a membership of more than five thousand. Its social centers are the busiest on the east side. The intellectuals from university and slum gathered to hear him preach.

Then—one day—he walked out. From that day he has elected to be stern and silent and self-centered—a determined exile from his home. No one knows why. Behind that protective shell of silence is there a tragedy concealed?

CZAR NICHOLAS ATTACKED BY "BASEBALL FEVER"

Czar Nicholas is the latest notable to succumb to "ball fever." In his youth his imperial majesty was fond of athletics and practiced boxing and ball punching until his health failed and physical ailments prescribed milder exercise.

Then he took to rowing and riding, and for a time was an enthusiast in the English game of cricket. One of the gifts which he received on his birthday, a little over a week ago, was a baseball set, handsomely mounted and with the imperial monogram done in gold on the handle of the bat. Next day the czar had a diamond laid out within the palace grounds and tried his hand at batting and pitching. He did well for a novice and enjoyed the play immensely.

The son of the gawkwar of Baroda, who learned to play baseball, among other things, while at school in the United States, got up a team when he was in St. Petersburg a couple of months ago. He is now carrying the fame of the game with him to Oxford, in England, where he is continuing his Occidental studies. The Indian prince is a good all-round athlete. In his first Oxford cricket match he tallied 21, not out, in a little more than an hour, thus proving that a baseball player can handle an English cricket bat with little trouble. The ball set now being used by the czar was the gift of the gawkwar's son.

TO THE EDITOR

Editor News:
Lima is getting into the age where we, the citizens expect street lights. We are in no village at the present time, and if the village of Beaverdam, can have electric lights until 1 o'clock a m., why should Lima, a city, and a growing one also, turn out lights early in the evening.

There are plenty of citizens of Lima who are out late at night attending to their business, and when they get through with their day's work it is a very late hour.

Now, these citizens are perhaps carrying money or valuables upon their persons and to think of a city of 33,000 inhabitants which cannot furnish street lights throughout the night. What chance has a citizen with his personal property or his life?

There is no chance whatever, you are not permitted to carry a weapon to defend yourself, and if you should carry a pocket flashlight you no doubt would be held as a suspicious character, etc.

I for one am not in favor of turning off street lights. It is a necessity which the citizens of a growing city should have and I think the citizens should take steps if possible to prevent such occurrence. Also I wish to state that in the outskirts of the city there is not the proper police protection, and if we haven't even a street light what chance do residents of the outskirts have.

I speak knowing from the location of my residence. I reside within seven blocks of the Public Square, and have resided there for nine years and have only seen a policeman there three times in this length of time. I think the city council, etc., has the right idea of running a city, but not in the right direction.

FEMALE VIOLENCE.

The high-water mark of violence in connection with the demand for woman suffrage was reached last week at Dublin where a hatchet was thrown at Premier Asquith, when he arrived in that city, and later when an effort was made to start a fire in the theater where a crowd had gathered to hear him speak. The hatchet might have brained the Premier, and the fire might have resulted in a wholesale slaughter.

It is inconceivable that the tactics, particularly that of setting fire to a crowded theater, can longer be tolerated. The public danger is too great. When in every well-regulated city, precautions of the most stringent sort are taken to prevent accidental panic and fire, is it possible to pass over as mere idiosyncrasy of a woman's campaign for votes a deliberate attempt to burn a building in which people are assembled?

The violence in the interest of women's suffrage has steadily increased until crimes that were never dreamed of at the outset are being committed. The only excuse for these crimes has been that John Bull cannot be reasoned with and must be driven. And that excuse is now so flimsy it will no longer be accepted by right-minded people.

Every act of the suffragettes tending toward violence lowers the women who really want the ballot in the mind of self-thinking people. If they want it sufficiently strong to endanger the lives of citizens in a crowded theater, if they want it badly enough to attempt to slay a Premier, if they want it well enough to do any human being bodily harm they are not entitled to it and the sooner they get behind prison bars where they belong that much sooner will right-minded people be willing to consider the claims of those capable of caring for it if they got it.

FOR REAL GOOD ROADS.

It is but little more than a month before the voters of Ohio will be called upon to ratify the amendment to the Constitution authorizing the issuing of $50,000,000 in bonds for the improvement of the wagon roads in the state under the state aid plan.

If the people but realize the importance of this there is no question as to the outcome. The amendment will be carried by an overwhelming majority.

Ohio by doing this will be but following the lead of other states, although the system to be inaugurated here will be far more extensive and more comprehensive than that put into force by any other state.

In Ohio, as in other states, each county has what are known as main roads. These are the highways which go from one county seat to another and in their continuance reach across the state. Some run east and west; some north and south and some diagonally, but all are of great length and great importance. They constitute the main avenues of vehicle traffic and, including the urban centers, eighty per cent of the people of the state live upon them. To a state they hold the same relationship as do the main arteries to the human body. Therefore, as they are kept in good condition and travel can go over them unhampered and easily, the state is bound to prosper. The man of the town and the man of the country shares in the benefit alike. Living prices must go down as transportation becomes cheaper just as certainly as the thermometer drops when the chill north wind whistles around. This is not a question of calculus, or geometry or higher mathematics. It is purely a simple economic proposition which becomes a truism and brooks of no argument.

A New York judge has decided that the railroad company must settle if a man's trousers are stolen from a car window. He does not add, however, that it would be a wise law to compel the Pullman car people to carry a few extra pairs of trousers for such emergencies.

The management of a New York vaudeville house has barred the fossilized "mother-in-law jokes" and all "humor" based upon a man's ability to be untrue to his wife without her knowing it. That is the kind of an uplift that should really uplift.

The statistics as to the number of people swindled in this country last year recalls the fact that there is one county in Indiana where there is absolutely no market for gold-bricks. Everybody in that county has one.

This thing of getting on the water wagon is all very well, but getting right in the middle of a bath tub these hot days is the most pleasing piece of temperance we can imagine.

MISS LIMA:—A woman's lot is not a happy one. If she hasn't anything serious to worry about, she begins to get fat.

Happy Thought: There are good bosses and good trusts but we've noticed they're usually best to themselves.

OPERATION OF STEEL PLANT BEING SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED BY LACK OF WATER PRESSURE

"We were compelled to spend over five hundred dollars today, to make provisions to supply storage facilities for water at our plant because of lack of a sufficient supply by the city service at the works," declared John Galvin, of the Ohio Steel Foundry company, to The News this afternoon when asked if the shortage of water at the steel plant was any serious handicap to the operation of the big industry.

Mr. Galvin stated that the Foundry company had just purchased 3 tanks from the Solar Refining Company and will install them at the steel works for the purpose of utilizing them for the storage of water in order that the works will not be closed down from lack of an adequate water supply every time a couple of fire hydrants are opened, a main is broken or the people over the city are engaged in sprinkling their lawns.

"When the inspectors for the board of underwriters were here testing the pressure in the water mains, we were unable to get water while they had hydrants open in various parts of the city," said Mr. Galvin. "Once we had to shut down while I drove over to the city to ascertain the cause of our being unable to get any water from the line at the steel plant. I asked the authorities to have the tests made at night so that we would not be out of water every time a hydrant was opened. If we do not get better service in some other way, we will be compelled to drill wells and put in a plant of our own. We have a six inch line which we put in from the water main to our plant but a two inch line would carry all the water we are able to draw from the main."

COMPROMISE WOOL BILL IS PROMISED

(By United Press.)
Washington, July 26.—Certainly that a compromise bill reducing the wool tariff will be presented to President Taft was expressed today by the house leader Underwood. "Although I have not consulted other members of the ways and means committee, he said, "it is my personal opinion that the Senate Wool bill will go to conference and some compromise reached."

"It is probable that the house will now pass the cotton bill, as the Senate is showing a disposition to enact tariff legislation."

Underwood's guess as to the adjournment date today was September first.

PENNILESS TRAMP Was Not Long in Making His Ingratitude Plain.

The ingratitude of a penniless tramp was evidenced this morning when Louis Geiger, a saloonkeeper at Main street and the Erie railroad, reported to the police the theft of a valuable suit of clothes and $7.00 in cash.

Thursday morning, a stranger appeared at the Geiger saloon, jobless and penniless. Mr. Geiger furnished him with employment and had him work in the room over his saloon. At noon, the tramp was discovered missing. Upon investigation it was also found that the clothes and money went with the stranger. The fellow took french leave and his whereabouts are unknown.

SAYS HELEN GOULD OUGHT TO MARRY

(By United Press.)
Grand Junction, Col., July 26.—That Helen Gould is the most wonderful bachelor girl in the United States, but that she could be of more use to humanity if she were married is the declaration of Rev. Elmer V. Huffer, of the First Christian church of this city.

Miss Gould has taken issue with Mr. Huffer in his declaration that bachelors and old maids should be isolated on some desolate island, because they are a menace and detriment to society.

"Miss Gould is a noble woman," declared Huffer today, "but her nobleness would be greatly enhanced if she were married."

MARSHAL FEELS FIT.
Indianapolis, July 26.—Refreshed by a week's vacation Governor Thomas Marshall got down to his office early today and began wading through an accumulation of mail. "I'm feeling fine and am ready for a long hot campaign," declared the Democratic vice presidential nominee as he entered his office.

Old 'General Delivery' Will No Longer Help You Make 'Dates'

Romantic young girls who like to make "dates" with their lovers through the general delivery service will hereafter find this trust barred.

Following complaints from all over the country, Postmaster General Hitchcock today issued new regulations to postmasters requiring all persons who use the general delivery system to furnish a statement in writing, specifying their full names and addresses and explaining why they wish to be served by general delivery.

Minors must furnish names of their parents so that the latter may control delivery of mail.

Postmasters are also permitted, at their discretion, to notify parents where it appears that minors are obtaining their mail under objectionable circumstances.

PLANS

FOR NEW BUILDINGS MUST BE SHOWN THE CHIEF.

MORE STRINGENT RULES ARE TO BE OBSERVED IN THE FUTURE.

Plans and specifications of every building erected within fire limits of the City of Lima in the future must be submitted to the city engineer for scrutiny, according to the edict of State Building Inspector W. P. Spangler, of Delancey, who spent Thursday in this city in conference with Fire Chief John Mack.

Inspector Spangler came here for a personal inspection of the plans and specifications of the new Lima high school and Reece avenue building additions authorized by the city board of education. He sanctioned the plans. While here, however, he learned that builders have neglected to submit plans and specifications of structures for construction and ordered the state law governing this feature enforced.

In the future, Chief Mack is building inspector, ex-officio, and plans for additions, residences, buildings or skyscrapers must be submitted to him for inspection before the structures can be erected.

Several contractors called on the chief this morning with plans and these were approved.

(By United Press.)
Washington, July 26.—Powder puffs, poker chips and music rolls are being furnished members of the house from the public treasury according to the charge made today by Representative Wins of Ohio. "In examining the record of expenditures of the house contingent fund," Wins said, "I find that these articles are being charged up by members."

"GHOSTS" FEET SORE.
Fort Sheridan Ills., July 26.—Soldiers on duty are feeling the effects of an incipient monetary panic. The appropriation from which the troops are paid is exhausted, and the "ghosts" has not walked since June 5.

BUILDING PERMIT.
A building permit was issued this morning to E. R. Curtin, oil capitalist, for the erection of a $2500 garage at the rear of his west Market street residence. Work on the new building will commence at once.

once, and Mr. Curtin hopes to have the structure completed within a month. The new garage will be one of the most elaborate in the city and will be constructed of brick and concrete, with tile roof.

OPERATION OF STEEL PLANT BEING SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED BY LACK OF WATER PRESSURE

"We were compelled to spend over five hundred dollars today, to make provisions to supply storage facilities for water at our plant because of lack of a sufficient supply by the city service at the works," declared John Galvin, of the Ohio Steel Foundry company, to The News this afternoon when asked if the shortage of water at the steel plant was any serious handicap to the operation of the big industry.

Mr. Galvin stated that the Foundry company had just purchased 3 tanks from the Solar Refining Company and will install them at the steel works for the purpose of utilizing them for the storage of water in order that the works will not be closed down from lack of an adequate water supply every time a couple of fire hydrants are opened, a main is broken or the people over the city are engaged in sprinkling their lawns.

"When the inspectors for the board of underwriters were here testing the pressure in the water mains, we were unable to get water while they had hydrants open in various parts of the city," said Mr. Galvin. "Once we had to shut down while I drove over to the city to ascertain the cause of our being unable to get any water from the line at the steel plant. I asked the authorities to have the tests made at night so that we would not be out of water every time a hydrant was opened. If we do not get better service in some other way, we will be compelled to drill wells and put in a plant of our own. We have a six inch line which we put in from the water main to our plant but a two inch line would carry all the water we are able to draw from the main."

COMPROMISE WOOL BILL IS PROMISED

(By United Press.)
Washington, July 26.—Certain that a compromise bill reducing the wool tariff will be presented to President Taft was expressed today by the house leader Underwood. "Although I have not consulted other members of the ways and means committee, he said, "it is my personal opinion that the Senate Wool bill will go to conference and some compromise reached."

"It is probable that the house will now pass the cotton bill, as the Senate is showing a disposition to enact tariff legislation."

Underwood's guess as to the adjournment date today was September first.

PENNILESS TRAMP Was Not Long in Making His Ingratitude Plain.

The ingratitude of a penniless tramp was evidenced this morning when Louis Geiger, a saloonkeeper at Main street and the Erie railroad, reported to the police the theft of a valuable suit of clothes and $7.00 in cash.

Thursday morning, a stranger appeared at the Geiger saloon, jobless and penniless. Mr. Geiger furnished him with employment and had him work in the room over his saloon. At noon, the tramp was discovered missing. Upon investigation it was also found that the clothes and money went with the stranger. The fellow took french leave and his whereabouts are unknown.

SAYS HELEN GOULD OUGHT TO MARRY

(By United Press.)
Grand Junction, Col., July 26.—That Helen Gould is the most wonderful bachelor girl in the United States, but that she could be of more use to humanity if she were married is the declaration of Rev. Elmer V. Huffer, of the First Christian church of this city.

Miss Gould has taken issue with Mr. Huffer in his declaration that bachelors and old maids should be isolated on some desolate island, because they are a menace and detriment to society.

"Miss Gould is a noble woman," declared Huffer today, "but her nobleness would be greatly enhanced if she were married."

MARSHAL FEELS FIT.
Indianapolis, July 26.—Refreshed by a week's vacation Governor Thomas Marshall got down to his office early today and began wading through an accumulation of mail. "I'm feeling fine and am ready for a long hot campaign," declared the Democratic vice presidential nominee as he entered his office.

Old 'General Delivery' Will No Longer Help You Make 'Dates'

Romantic young girls who like to make "dates" with their lovers through the general delivery service will hereafter find this trust barred.

Following complaints from all over the country, Postmaster General Hitchcock today issued new regulations to postmasters requiring all persons who use the general delivery system to furnish a statement in writing, specifying their full names and addresses and explaining why they wish to be served by general delivery.

Minors must furnish names of their parents so that the latter may control delivery of mail.

Postmasters are also permitted, at their discretion, to notify parents where it appears that minors are obtaining their mail under objectionable circumstances.

PLANS

SHOWN THE CHIEF.

FUTURE.

Plans and specifications of every building erected within fire limits of the City of Lima in the future must be submitted to the city engineer for scrutiny, according to the edict of State Building Inspector W. P. Spangler, of Delanco, who spent Thursday in this city in conference with Fire Chief John Mack.

Inspector Spangler came here for a personal inspection of the plans and specifications of the new Lima high school and Reece avenue building additions authorized by the city board of education. He sanctioned the plans. While here, however, he learned that builders have neglected to submit plans and specifications of structures for construction and ordered the state law governing this feature enforced.

In the future, Chief Mack is building inspector, ex-officio, and plans for additions, residences, buildings or skyscrapers must be submitted to him for inspection before the structures can be erected.

Several contractors called on the chief this morning with plans and these were approved.

(By United Press.)
Washington, July 26.—Powder puffs, poker chips and music rolls are being furnished members of the house from the public treasury according to the charge made today by Representative Wins of Ohio. "GHOSTS" FEET SORE.
Fort Sheridan Ills., July 26.—Soldiers on duty are feeling the effects of an incipient monetary panic. The appropriation from which the troops are paid is exhausted, and the "ghosts" has not walked since June 5.

BUILDING PERMIT.
A building permit was issued this morning to E. R. Curtin, oil capitalist, for the erection of a $2500 garage at the rear of his west Market street residence. Work on the new building will commence at once.

once, and Mr. Curtin hopes to have the structure completed within a month. The new garage will be one of the most elaborate in the city and will be constructed of brick and concrete, with tile roof.

GAME CALLED OFF.

TEMPTER

Of Evil Larks In The Mode of Dress

ACCORDING TO SOME WHILE OTHERS SEE NOTHING VERY WRONG.

JUDGE LINDSAY SAYS MAY BE POSSIBLE.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS ANENT RECENT BRUTAL MURDER OF LITTLE GIRL.

(By United Press.)

Denver, Colo., July 26.—"I am guilty. I am insane, caused by the beautiful make-up of women." These words contained in the written confession of Nathan Swartz, detailed why he murdered little Julia Connors in New York, recently, have caused a wide spread controversy among club women, ministers and others, bringing to an acute issue the problem of the present day dress of women.

"Could it be possible that the present day summer gowns of women, fashioned to bring out the lines of the figure distinctly, would have an effect upon man that would bring him to a crime so terrible as the Connors murder?" was the question asked today of a number of prominent persons. Some of the opinions expressed are: Governor Shaferoth: "Of course, I'm not up on it in any way, but I can't see anything wrong in women's costumes. They look pretty good to me. Not ever having had experience like the Swartz matter, I really couldn't say whether a sane man could or could not be incited to crime by a tight dress."

Rev. Dr. H. Fousko: "In answer to the first question, I think that extremes of fashion are improper. About Swartz I think that unquestionably he speaks a widespread commentary of men upon the extreme of the dress of the present day."

Miss Helen King Robinson, club woman and writer: "No, I certainly do not think that present day feminine dress is either immodest or immoral. There are women, of course, whose very personalities could make hoop skirts immodest, but that should not be ascribed to the costume."

Rev. R. E. Coyle: "While I think that woman's clothes of today are far from being proper, I think that any man who committed a crime of that sort simply because the dress caused his admiration must have been a degenerate."

Mrs. R. Chandler Phillips, society woman: "In the first place I do not think that women's fashionable dress nowadays are immodest. Like anything else, of course, it can be carried to extremes, in which case, it is naturally not right."

Judge Ben Lindsay: "Although this is the first time I have ever thought of it, there is a possibility that the murderer told the truth. In my experience in children's court I have found that there is a certain mysterious power of attraction in the person that may incite degenerates to crime."

GRADUATED TAX

Bill Is Order of Business In The Senate Today.

Washington, July 26.—The excise or income tax bill was the special order of business today in the Senate. A vote on the measure was expected about 8 o'clock tonight.

The measure proposes to extend the excise now levied on corporations for the privilege of doing business, to individuals. It was reported adversely by the Senate finance committee. As a sub to the house bill, Senator Borah, of Idaho, today formally offered his income tax bill. The sub provides for a graduated tax.

MAY TAKE STAND.

Clarence Darrow's Own Testimony May Come Before Night.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 26.—That Mrs. Clarence Darrow, wife of the defendant in the Darrow bribery trial, will follow attorney LeCompte Davison on the stand for the defense this afternoon was the announcement today by Earl Rogers, chief counsel for the defense.

It is not known what will be her testimony, but probably she will deny portions of the testimony given for the state by attorney Herrington, formerly employed by Darrow in the defense of the McNamara brothers. It is probable that Darrow himself will take the stand before night.

INSANITY CHARGES

FILED AGAINST ALBERT SHERD, MY MAYOR LEATHERMAN OF HARROD.

An affidavit of lunacy was filed in probate court today by mayor J. L. Leatherman, of Harrod, against Albert Sherd, of that village. The case was set for hearing on next Monday and two local physicians will be called in to examine the prisoner as to his mental condition.

Sherd was brought over from Harrod by deputy sheriff Baxter day before yesterday, after he had been arrested in that village on the charge of threatening to kill his wife and himself.

WHAT MARRIAGE ISN'T.

Chicago, Ill., July 26.—"Marriage is no hammer-throwing contest," said Judge Gamblit to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gangler, who hurled slippers, bread box, frying pan, brick hatchet and rolling pins at one another.

Where You Can See Meridian Line. The meridian of the earth, the scientist will tell you, is an imaginary line running from north to south. It is not generally known, however, that near Greenwich observatory the meridian line can be actually seen and walked upon. It is deeply graven in stone, and is laid in the footpath that leads round the observatory. Wide World Magazine.

TASTING WINE FOR LIVING

Strange Calling Followed by Women Born With Delicate Palates Is Very Lucrative.

Of the list of strange callings followed by women that of wine tasting is one of the most curious and lucrative. As a matter of fact, Mlle. Colliere, whose services are in great demand in France, Germany and Italy as a wine taster, is said to make an income of about $5,000 a year, many firms employing her for regular work and frequently for special duty. Only half a dozen wine tasters have been known to history, the most renowned of these being the wife of a famous London wine merchant, Mme. Pomperoy, who died in Paris twelve years ago, and Signora Sousa, who has a great reputation in Spain on account of her judgment and knowledge of wine.

Wine tasters, it appears, are born, not made, and must possess the gift of a fine and delicate palate. To this, of course, must be added a knowledge of wines. Mlle. Colliere's taste is so fine and her knowledge of wines such that she can discern from the first taste of a wine just where the grapes grew from which it was made, whether they were raised in California or in the vineyards of France, Germany, or elsewhere. She can easily detect adulteration of any sort, or if there is a blend and of which wines, and can tell the age of a wine almost to a day. As a matter of fact, there are no secrets that a bottle of wine can withhold from this remarkable Frenchwoman, once she has had a spoonful of it in her mouth.

She does not swallow the wine. In fact, she is a teetotaler, and if she were to drink wine would lose her subtle magic of taste. Furthermore, she is obliged to take the greatest care of her health. She must be well in order to do her work, for her sense loses its cunning when she gets out of health.—Tit-Bits.

RIDDLES ARE OLD AS TIME

But Boys Are Said to Be More Fond of Them Than Girls—First of Which There Is Record.

It is a curious fact that boys are more fond of conundrums than girls are.

While all conundrums are riddles, all riddles are not conundrums, the term conundrum being used more for riddles which are based on some fancied resemblance, such as, "Why is a pig looking out of a second-story window like the moon?" and the answer is because it looks round. If anyone objects that the moon does not always look round, you can reply, "Neither does the pig."

Two of the most famous riddles are at least 3,000 years old. The first of which there is any record is found in the fourteenth chapter of Judges, and was made up by Samson after his fight with a lion. He offered a prize to anyone who could solve it within seven days, but no one got it. It is recorded that his wife pestered him to tell her the answer, but he absolutely refused until the time was up, and many think that he never intended to tell it at all.

Bishop Whately never told the answer to any of his puzzles. If they were correctly guessed he would acknowledge that the solution was right; but if no one got the answer he kept it to himself, and some of his enigmas are still unsolved. One of the chief entertainments in ancient times at any domestic gathering, such as a marriage feast, was asking riddles, and many persons spent their lives in devising them and selling them to the rich and great, just as some public men now get others to write their speeches for them.

MRS. SETON-THOMPSON AN OUT-OF-DOORS WOMAN

"The woman who goes skimming with her husband" is the title of the book which Mrs. Seton-Thompson likes best to be known. For three years she has led the life of the forest, mountain and plain, has lived on dry jerked beef and alkali water, bathed in pools among vast plains where none but four-footed things had ever been before, been sung to sleep by the coyotes, and lullaby, and in the morning on the road footprints in a mountain where he had no road.

No wonder she loves her primitive life—the woman who goes skimming with her husband! He is a famous naturalist and author, and she is a famous mountaineer. It just suits the dark, deep pages of the forest and the lonely wind-swept heights, for when she creeps cautiously along the base of a rocky cliff, or conceals herself behind a tree in order to gain a closer approach to the game she is stalking, she seems like an Indian woman, born and bred to the fascination of the wild life. To see her ready for some of her mountain expeditions is a lesson in the possibility of feminine attire; for she wears a sort of suit of whipcord, grayish-brown, the color of the landscape, and the most sensible boots, leggings and cap imaginable. "Why should a woman look like a freak, even in sport?" she demands in her irresistibly lively, breezy fashion, and answers her own question by proving that a woman can do all sorts of things in the outdoor life, do them well, cover herself with glory from athletic feats, and yet look as wellbred and charming in a whipcord roughing suit as in the lace and frills of the drawing room.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

TOO MANY LAWYERS, SAYS SECRETARY JAMES WILSON

The demand of the United States for lawyers and physicians is more than met by professional schools, while the demand for educated farmers is strikingly neglected, says Secretary Wilson.

"The fields are crying aloud for trained men," Mr. Wilson continued, "while thousands of young men are being graduated from our law schools, and there are jobs waiting for only a small percentage of them. Housekeepers are complaining of the cost of living. It would seem to be wise for our educators in their national meetings to consider these problems."

"It might be wise to consider about how many young lawyers will be needed in the next year to take the place of the older men who are dropping out. That could be determined very easily."

"Then, if the attention of this class of students were called to the demand of the industries for educated men, a different direction might be given to many young men who seem to be 'drawing their bows at heaven's tower.'"

"The department of agriculture is organizing to take farm demonstration work into the northern states, and for this work there will be needed a large number of trained agricultural men."

Only Known Fountain of Youth.

So often have men and women sought and failed to find the fountain of youth that the experiment of Mrs. Francis White, of Baltimore, will be watched with interest. At the age of eighty Mrs. White, the widow of the financier, has decided to go to England to enter Cambridge university for a course in English classics. Probably she is not in quest of the fountain of youth, but if that fountain can be found anywhere it will be in the limitless depths and wonderful possibilities of knowledge.—Washington Post.

Expeditions to Cross Greenland.

The Danes are resolved not to be beaten in the race across Greenland's ice wastes. The Swiss Dr. de Quervain will endeavor this summer to cross Greenland from west to east under the sixty-seventh parallel, and now a Danish expedition is announced which will make an attempt to cross the island at its widest ten degrees further north, from Cape Bismarck on the east coast to Upernavik on the west coast, a distance of roughly 500 miles.

Criticized Reproduction. Mrs. Augustus Saint-Gaudens, widow of the famous sculptor, is something of a critic, it seems, having had her husband's magnificent work so often before her. Recently she criticized very severely the bronze reproduction of the statue of Abraham Lincoln, presented to the Boston chamber of commerce by the chamber of commerce in Chicago, the original of which stands in Lincoln park, Chicago.

JAPANESE HUMOR.

Laughing the just is the most funny.

ADVANCE OF CIVILIZATION

Food.

Cooked food.

Available to keep the food from the ground.

A plate to keep the food from the table.

A thin cloth to keep the plate from the thick cloth.

Then another plate to keep the food from the first plate.

Then a dolly to keep the second plate from the first plate.

When the table is protected by the thick cloth and the thick cloth by the thin cloth and the thin cloth by a plate and the plate by a dolly and the dolly by a second plate, the food is protected by a diet.—Life.

NUGGETS

Unfortunately, to be sadder, isn't always to be the wiser.

Many a love scene in real life is staged to make some other girl jealous.

The man who is his own worst enemy thereby goes back on his best friend.

Even a new broom won't sweep clean unless it has some power behind it.

When a woman's face is her fortune, does it make her doubly rich to be two-faced?

The people who feel that they have nothing more to learn may have a lot to unlearn.

THE DOGWOOD

Here's charm.

And here's loveliness.

Here's piquancy of growth.

Here, in short, is the dainty dogwood.

The white sorts are rivaled by the pink.

The native dogwood grows from Maine to Florida.

The large white so-called flowers are not flowers at all.

The true flowers are very, very small and of a queer green-yellow color.

The four large notched white conspicuous parts simulate petals and are really the bracts of an involucre below the true flowers.

UNPLEASANT QUESTIONS.

A wise rule.

Forbids three subjects.

Age, money and marriage.

Inquisitive persons invite false friends.

Why ask point blank about these individual matters?

SUFFRAGISTS TO VISIT THIS CITY

A suffrage campaign party under the direction of Florence Allen, of Cleveland, a well known newspaper correspondent will arrive in Lima, July 29th to stir up local sentiment in behalf of Amendment 23 to the new constitution. The party consists of "all stars." Margaret Haley, of Chicago, famous as the leader of the Chicago Teachers' tax campaign against public service corporations. Rose Bower, of South Dakota, the musician of the party who plays cornet and piano simultaneously; Mrs. A. B. Wolfe, wife of Prof. Wolfe, of Oberlin University, and admirable speaker, and Florence Allen, who, in addition to being business manager, makes outdoor speeches and interviews leading citizens. The personnel of this suffrage party augurs well for the movement which enlists it. Meetings will be announced later.

PLACING THE BLAME.

Cleveland, O., July 26.—Federal investigation to place the blame for the stranding of the excursion steamer, Eastland, on the rocky approach of the fast Cleveland breakwater, was started today by Captain Thos. W. Gould, government inspector of hulls.

TOO REALISTIC. Chicago, July 26.—A make believe rescue for a moving picture film became a realistic scene when the young woman star became entangled under an overturned canoe, and the pretending hero rescued her.

"Marriage is What MAN Makes It"

An Answer to Mrs. Wilson Woodrow by Grace Livingston Furniss

She advertises him financially by the magnificence of her jewels."

If Wives Are "Parasites," as Mrs. Woodrow Declares, Men Like 'em Best That Way, and Wouldn't Have Them Independent Economically (or Any Other Way) for Anything!

ON this page is printed Miss Grace Livingston Furniss's reply to Mrs. Wilson Woodrow's scathing arraignment of American Wives recently printed in this newspaper.

Miss Furniss, whose view by no means coincides with that of Mrs. Woodrow, is a well known playwright. She is the author of "A Brass Monkey." She wrote that brilliant comedy, "The Man on the Box," and the farce, "The Man on the Case."

By Grace Livingston Furniss
(The Distinguished American Playwright.)

IT is rather difficult to see how economic independence will release woman from being a parasite on her husband. The average man does not wish to marry a woman who is economically independent. He is not seeking a wife who will leave their home to take care of it—self between eight and six, and then sit down to dinner quite as tired and jaded as her husband, to wrangle over the tariff. She might be superior, but think how unpleasant! The average man's ideal is one heart, one mind, one soul for the household, and that one his.

This is all wrong, of course; but that is the way men feel about it; so unless, as Mrs. Woodrow suggests, women do the proposing—But no, that wouldn't help unless she was a very strong woman, for the average man would have to be chloro-and noble and splendid and perfectly reliable and prudent and thrifty man gets tired of her and goes out to find a nice grass widow who will scramble his ideas in a turkey trot.

All this and more being the deplorable ideal of man, of what use is economic independence?

Mrs. Woodrow's highly entertaining article is like a Roman candle which goes off in seven different directions and ends in a small stick. At the end she admits that her strictures on the American wife apply only to a certain number of idle rich women in cities.

Since this is true of what use is economic independence? Women who are devastating their husbands' bank accounts in one paragraph, cannot be suffering from the ignominy of asking for money to buy ing artisans in all the small arts that cater to rich and idle women alone depend on this particular lady for their livelihood. Do not, I pray you, Mrs. Woodrow, leave them to mourn by setting the idle ones to work.

Incidentally, strong men would fall dead if they tried to keep half of the social dates of this idle lady who has nervous prostration from ten to two on Sunday, and then goes on as usual.

Considering all this, why call her a parasite? Unless dollars and cents are the only valuable asset, it would seem as if this lady may be said to earn as much as the economically independent, who brings home twelve dollars a week.

Mrs. Woodrow mistakenly places manual labor ahead of mental. If the wife does the work of a general houseworker she is too fagged mentally to be much of a companion for her husband, and saves possibly twenty dollars a month. If she has executive ability enough to run her house properly, and keep up the social end of the campaign, she may be helping him to earn a hundred thousand.

Mrs. Woodrow has forgotten a great deal in this attack upon the women who are the bone and sinew of our country, of which we have been hearing so much of late. For instance, she has forgotten the large number of women who help their one servant in the household work, or who do all their household work. These women predominate in this country.

Indeed, they predominate so largely that the other type is, it seems, scarcely worth discussion. There are many such women as she describes in New York. Yes, and in two or three other large cities of this country. But the large cities do not represent America. They misrepresent it.

The true representation is found in the small cities, in the village and in the country, where Mrs. Woodrow seems never to have been; or if she has visited them has not seen the truth there spread before her. In Indianapolis, for instance, I know brilliant women, of fine intellect, who are good wives, mothers and housewives, and who keep at most one servant. Yet they find time to belong to clubs and to take an intelligent interest in what is happening in the world. They know art and history and politics better than the women in the large cities know dress.

These are the women to be considered. They are the vast body of American wives. Fancy these women going into offices to become economically independent. Their families would think them crazy and there would be a reign of domestic anarchy ended only by mother dropping her business fad.

Mrs. Woodrow's answer to the anticipated question: "What will become of the children when Mother goes out to work?" is a curious one. She says: "I see no reason why the State should not take care of the young. Most women, as a matter of fact are not efficient to care for their own children."

Shades of all the dear departed mothers of the race: "Not efficient?" Nature made each mother more efficient than any other woman in the world could be to care for that particular child. Children brought up by other than the guiding hands of the mother, whether it be in institutions or in so-called "homes," or by nurses, are machine raised children. Who ever heard of a genius so reared?

There is a shadowy unattested story that out of a founding asylum came a child who became the Governor of his adopted State. Even granted that this hazy story be true, a Governorship is not the most exalted office, and if I read my politics aright the office has often been unworthily held. The machine-reared child may be scientifically reared. It is never lovingly brought up. And love is absolutely necessary for a child's mental and character growth.

"One heart, one mind, one Soul—and that one his."

There are machine-reared children who have grown into selfish, useless citizens, but no George Washington nor Abraham Lincoln was so reared. They came from homes where the mother was a constant presence, not a nervous remnant of a daily down town business struggle. Such a woman would never have given us a President of the United States, will never give us one.

formed and dragged to the altar by the economically independent woman.

As a sad matter of fact men like parasitic women who depend on them for everything, including thoughts. The Dream Girl of the average young man's fancy is fluffy and sweet and coquettish and trifling. He doesn't wish to find either ink or flour on her fingers nor to hear her tell how many pounds of Graham bread and apples will make an American citizen of a Russian baby. In real life the idle wife of the rich husband is doing exactly what her husband married her for. She is a valuable asset because she represents him socially and advertises him financially by the magnificence of her jewels and motors and entertainments.

This type of woman is always painfully good to look at. Highbrowed ladies who have managed to preserve their economic independence by—oh, any of the pleasant ways open to a downtrodden sex—speak with grief of the immoral type of the idle woman's beauty; they all admit it is there.

NEW YORK BANKER THROWS LIGHT UPON CAMPAIGN
FUNDS.

(By United Press.)
Washington, July 25.—That J. Pierpont Morgan, Henry F. Rick and E. H. Harriman were contributors to the Republican campaign fund in 1904, was stated as "probable" today by Geo. R. Sheldon, a New York banker and formerly treasurer of the Republican National committee before the Senate committee investigation contribution.

"Did you get the names of Morgan and Frick from men officially connected with the campaign?" asked Senator Clapp.

"Mr. Frick told me he had contributed," Sheldon answered, "and I had the other information of a member of the Morgans firm that Morgan was a contributor."

"Do you know the amounts contributed by Morgan and Frick?" asked Senator Paynter.

"No sir."

"What do you know about Harriman's connection with the 1904 campaign?"

"It has all been printed," said Sheldon.

"About the week before the election chairman O'Dell of the New York state committee, who was much interested in Higgin's election as Governor went to Cornelius Bliss, treasurer of the National committee and asked for money for use in New York state. Odell said to Bliss that Roosevelt would certainly carry the state but that the state ticket was in doubt. Bliss said he had no money to give him but that he would see Harriman about it. Harriman raised $230,000 which was paid to the state committee."

The witness explained that he was treasurer of the National Republican committee in the 1904 campaign. The amount of contributions received for the race he said was $1,855,518. He delivered to the committee two enormous folios bound in black leather. One of these, Sheldon declared, showed every dollar received and how every dollar was expended in the 1908 campaign. The other columns, he said, carried the expenditures lumped.

FEAR ONION CROP WILL BE FAILURE

Special to The News.
Kenton, O., July 25.—This season's onion crop on the marsh would have been the largest in history of the marsh had the recent rains not flooded a large acreage near Alger, according to Alleen Edwards one of the largest onion growers of Hardin county.

When asked this afternoon about the damage done by the flood at Alger, Mr. Edwards said he did not know definitely what the loss will be. Not for a few days will the extent of the damages be known. But in his opinion the loss will be great in the vicinity of Alger. There the onion fields were buried beneath a sea of water in many places over a foot deep.

However, the price of onions will not be as high as last season. Mr. Edwards stated that the price is the one certain thing just at present. While the crop this season might have been larger than that of last season the price will be such that the profits will be much less.

SPEND TOO MUCH EDUCATING FOOLS

Boulder, Colo., July 25.—"The people of the United States spend too much money for the education of their fools and too little in proportion for the improvement of their gifted sons," declared Charles Henry Keyes, member of the National council, of the National Education Association in his address to the summer school students at the university of Colorado.

The lecturer stated that it is easier to get $500,000 appropriation from the average legislature for fools school than it is to get a $200 appropriation for a university which is training the strong men and women upon whom the destiny of the nation depends."

Powers Are Watch- ing Italian Move- ments

BIG DREADNAUGHT SOON TO BE SENT TO THE MEDITERRA-NEAN

LARGER NAVY IS
THE CRY OVER THERE

MORE BIG FIGHTERS NEEDED TO PROTECT HER NEW POSSESSIONS

B Henry Wood
(Cor. for the United Press)
Rome, July 20.—Within the next few weeks Italy's navy now doing service in the Mediterranean and the Aegean against Turkey will be augmented by a Dreadnaught, the first battleship of the type to enter into actual warfare. The occasion is therefore considered of some moment. It is entirely possible that the new dreadnaught will have an opportunity of displaying its much extolled possibilities and the actual conduct of the big fighter, it is expected, will be followed with keen interest by all of the naval powers of the world.

The "Dante Alighieri," which is the name of the new dreadnaught, is Italy's first concrete response to the international cry to follow suite that went up several years ago when England first introduced this new type of naval perfection. Like all of the other powers that started in to follow suite, Italy began plans at once for an entire squadron of the new type. The Dante Alighieri will therefore be followed in 1913 by the Cavour and the Leonardo da Vinci, both of which have already been launched; a little later by the Guilio Cesare, then by the Duilio and finally by the sixth.

The first four of these dreadnaughts will follow the type that was established in 1906 by England except that they will have 12 instead of 10 twelve-inch guns and these will be so placed that all twelve can be brought into action at one time. The two last of the six, however, will follow more closely the later developments of the dreadnaughts in the United States and will carry eight 14-inch guns. Instead of being of the 30,000 ton capacity of the American fighters, however, they will be only 23,000 to 24,000 tons.

With Italy's recent occupation of Tripoli and Cirenaica, as well as the occupation of nearly a score of islands in the Aegean, some of which she may retain permanently, a cry has already gone up in Italy for a bigger navy and more dreadnaughts with which to protect this increased territory. In support of this cry comparison has also been made of the dreadnaught strength of the European international groupings. The Triple Intent, of France and England and Russia it is pointed out has dreadnaught strength counting the vessels now in construction of 54, while the Triple Alliance consisting of Italy, Germany and Austria masters only 29. As a consequence it is expected that concrete head will soon be taken by the Italian government of the popular demand for more big fighters.

NEW YORK BANKER THROWS
LIGHT UPON CAMPAIGN
FUNDS.

(By United Press.)
Washington, July 25.—That J. Pierpont Morgan, Henry F. Rick and E. H. Harriman were contributors to the Republican campaign fund in 1904, was stated as "probable" today by Geo. R. Sheldon, a New York banker and formerly treasurer of the Republican National committee before the Senate committee investigation contribution.

"Did you get the names of Morgan and Frick from men officially connected with the campaign?" asked Senator Clapp.

"Mr. Frick told me he had contributed," Sheldon answered, "and I had the other information of a member of the Morgans firm that Morgan was a contributor."

"Do you know the amounts contributed by Morgan and Frick?" asked Senator Paynter.

"No sir."

"What do you know about Harriman's connection with the 1904 campaign?"

"It has all been printed," said Sheldon.

"About the week before the election chairman O'Dell of the New York state committee, who was much interested in Higgin's election as Governor went to Cornelius Bliss, treasurer of the National committee and asked for money for use in New York state. Odell said to Bliss that Roosevelt would certainly carry the state but that the state ticket was in doubt. Bliss said he had no money to give him but that he would see Harriman about it. Harriman raised $230,000 which was paid to the state committee."

The witness explained that he was treasurer of the National Republican committee in the 1904 campaign. The amount of contributions received for the race he said was $1,855,518. He delivered to the committee two enormous folios bound in black leather. One of these, Sheldon declared, showed every dollar received and how every dollar was expended in the 1908 campaign. The other columns, he said, carried the expenditures lumped.

A WORD TO PARENTS

Look After Your Child's Health During the Years of Most Rapid Growth.

School children who are nervous, who cannot sit quietly on a chair, who are always dropping things, and perhaps have twitching of the muscles of the face, need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once.

Growing girls who become pale and thin, who have fickle appetites; who are out of breath after climbing the stairs, and who have palpitation of the heart after the least exertion, need them also.

Parents of such children should not delay the treatment. Nervous children do not develop properly. A sickly girlhood means a lack of womanhood and lack of blood during the years of most rapid growth means flat-chested, listless, ambitionless men and women later on.

Pure, rich, red blood is what is needed. Strength for the nerves follows naturally. The time to correct the need of these is now, before any more harm is done.

Miss Carrie E. Hathaway, of North Houghton street, North Adams, Mass., was cured of anemia by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after her case was pronounced hopeless by her doctor. The statement of her cure is told by her mother, Mrs. A. A. Hathaway. "My daughter, Carrie, was confined to her bed for two years suffering from anemia. She seemed to have no blood and was as pale as a ghost. She was thin and did not weigh more than 100 pounds, had no strength or ability and could not do any work. Her appetite was poor and she had difficulty in breathing. No one expected her to get well and our minister, before going on his vacation, came to bid her goodbye as he did not think she would live until his return. We spent hundreds of dollars but the doctor seemed to be puzzled and could not help her. She had been sick for over two years before I decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. The pills gave her quick relief and cured her after a fair trial. She has had no serious sickness since and weighs 170 pounds. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a wonderful remedy and I cannot say enough in praise of them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

DEATH HIS STUDY

HIRAM MAXIM

Hudson Maxim announces that he is completing a design for a semi-submarine cruiser which he expects will revolutionize naval warfare. The vessel will ride the waves like any other boat, but in action will be submerged, becoming a mere gun platform, almost impossible to destroy.

ry M. Daugherty, also of Ohio, is scheduled to arrive in Washington late today and spend the night at the White House also to discuss Ohio politics with the President.

FEAR ONION CROP WILL BE FAILURE

Special to The News.
Kenton, O., July 25.—This season's onion crop on the marsh would have been the largest in history of the marsh had the recent rains not flooded a large acreage near Alger, according to Alleen Edwards one of the largest onion growers of Hardin county.

When asked this afternoon about the damage done by the flood at Alger, Mr. Edwards said he did not know definitely what the loss will be. Not for a few days will the extent of the damages be known. But in his opinion the loss will be great in the vicinity of Alger. There the onion fields were buried beneath a sea of water in many places over a foot deep.

However, the price of onions will not be as high as last season. Mr. Edwards stated that the price is the one certain thing just at present. While the crop this season might have been larger than that of last season the price will be such that the profits will be much less.

BULL MOOSE MEETING

(By United Press.)
Portland, Ore., July 25.—With representatives present from every county in Oregon the Bull Moose convention met today. Five delegates to the Chicago Progressive convention will be chosen and an electoral ticket and candidates for congressmen and senators will be nominated. It is not known whether a full state ticket will be nominated.

SPEND TOO MUCH EDUCATING FOOLS

Boulder, Colo., July 25.—"The people of the United States spend too much money for the education of their fools and too little in proportion for the improvement of their gifted sons," declared Charles Henry Keyes, member of the National council, of the National Education Association in his address to the summer school students at the university of Colorado.

The lecturer stated that it is easier to get $500,000 appropriation from the average legislature for fools school than it is to get a $200 appropriation for a university which is training the strong men and women upon whom the destiny of the nation depends."

NAVAL Powers Are Watch- ing Italian Move- ments

SENT TO THE MEDITERRA-NEAN

LARGER NAVY IS
THE CRY OVER THERE

MORE BIG FIGHTERS NEEDED TO PROTECT HER NEW POSSESSIONS

B Henry Wood
(Cor. for the United Press)
Rome, July 20.—Within the next few weeks Italy's navy now doing service in the Mediterranean and the Aegean against Turkey will be augmented by a Dreadnaught, the first battleship of the type to enter into actual warfare. The occasion is therefore considered of some moment. It is entirely possible that the new dreadnaught will have an opportunity of displaying its much extolled possibilities and the actual conduct of the big fighter, it is expected, will be followed with keen interest by all of the naval powers of the world.

The "Dante Alighieri," which is the name of the new dreadnaught, is Italy's first concrete response to the international cry to follow suite that went up several years ago when England first introduced this new type of naval perfection. Like all of the other powers that started in to follow suite, Italy began plans at once for an entire squadron of the new type. The Dante Alighieri will therefore be followed in 1913 by the Cavour and the Leonardo da Vinci, both of which have already been launched; a little later by the Guilio Cesare, then by the Duilio and finally by the sixth.

The first four of these dreadnaughts will follow the type that was established in 1906 by England except that they will have 12 instead of 10 twelve-inch guns and these will be so placed that all twelve can be brought into action at one time. The two last of the six, however, will follow more closely the later developments of the dreadnaughts in the United States and will carry eight 14-inch guns. Instead of being of the 30,000 ton capacity of the American fighters, however, they will be only 23,000 to 24,000 tons.

With Italy's recent occupation of Tripoli and Cirenaica, as well as the occupation of nearly a score of islands in the Aegean, some of which she may retain permanently, a cry has already gone up in Italy for a bigger navy and more dreadnaughts with which to protect this increased territory. In support of this cry comparison has also been made of the dreadnaught strength of the European international groupings. The Triple Intent, of France and England and Russia it is pointed out has dreadnaught strength counting the vessels now in construction of 54, while the Triple Alliance consisting of Italy, Germany and Austria masters only 29. As a consequence it is expected that concrete head will soon be taken by the Italian government of the popular demand for more big fighters.

JUDGE WRIGHT ATTACKED BY SAM GOMPERS

A FIERY EDITORIAL HE FAIRLY PLAYS THE JUSTICE

(By United Press)
Washington, July 25.—In bitter phrases, culminating in a diatribe against Justice Daniel Thew Wright, President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor today discussed the jurist's recent sentencing of Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison or contempt in a signed editorial in the American Federationist, as follows:

"Justice Wright discloses the mental attitude of a by-gone age when the masters owned the workmen who were their slaves or serfs.
As a lineal descendant of the King
or his representative the chancellor, Justice Wright undertook to deny to the workers of our title their rights gained by the constitution of our country."

"Justice Wright would forbid that men even criticize a judge or his decision.
"In so doing he is propagating a dangerous doctrine for there is no theory more subversive to Democracy than the theory of infallibility."

Any court that is compelled to resort to the suppression of critics in order to protect itself against contempt, is not one that is standing for the ideals of Democracy, justice and liberty.

"The opinion is a document that reflects with the utmost clearness
this kindly viewpoint, the mental bias and mental process that stand out so conspicuously from the conceptions of the rights of citizenship
among our people."

Its pseudo-individualist political theory reverberates like a voice from the tomb of the "vested interest" philosophers.

Gompers repeated the declaration immediately after the decision was rendered and immediately denied by Justice Wright that he had heard that decision in the contempt case was completed prior to the Chicago convention, but with held.

"We will stake our reputation for veracity with Justice Wright!"
the editorial declared. One statement was that "Russia could not go farther in judicial censorship than Wright in the contempt decision."

HERE'S A KISS FOR BABY WHICH DOESN'T HURT A BIT

Never kiss your baby on the mouth. Behind its tiny ear or on the back of its softly creased neck, are adorable places upon which to press one's lips. Its dear little toes seem to be made for kisses as does the center of its tiny hands.

The idea of a tobacco smoking uncle or gum-chewing aunt swooping down upon the mouth of a poor little unoffending and defenseless
baby, is not pleasant.

Keep your microbes for older people if you feel that you must kiss someone.

Transmit your million or so of germs to someone your own size.
Baby's mouth should be washed out daily with a weak solution of boracic acid. This will perhaps counteract the trouble made by someone who kisses the baby
when you are not looking.

There is no telling how many children have contracted disease had their lives wrecked and possibly died through the mouth to mouth kiss. It is one of the greatest dangers besetting a baby.

No baby has ever said it liked to be kissed. Indeed one sees more babies cry than smile at the situation. Most of us kiss a baby from the purely selfish desire to feel its soft, sweet-smelling flesh against our lips. If we must succumb to this desire let's remember the poor baby's feeling and health, and kiss
it any place but on the mouth.

To polish sidecombs dry something thoroughly in the oven and then let it get cold. Rub this well dington or rag. As the flour gets

MOTHER TOO WEAK TO SAVE HER BOY

(By United Press)
Lexington, Ky., July 25.—Because his mother was unable to continue to sacrifice her blood for him, Frank Marion Clover, 17, died at his home
today.

When the youth was dying from impoverished blood last February,
the mother saved his life by submitting to transfusion. He recovered sufficiently to resume his work in a grocery. The old trouble recurrent last week but the mother was too weak from her former experience to save him again.

TINY BABE TAKEN TO A CITY PRISON

Boston, Mass., July 25.—
A three months old baby girl who was to have been christened Sunday, today was sent to the house of correction on Deer Island for a month's "imprisonment."
Because the city of Boston
"could not take care of the infant" it was sent by special order to the court to its mother, who with her husband Albert Massesso, was convicted yesterday of house breaking. The parents stole only baby clothes. They said Massesso could not make enough to feed and clothe all the children.

A FIERY EDITORIAL HE FAIRLY PLAYS THE JUSTICE

(By United Press)
Washington, July 25.—In bitter phrases, culminating in a diatribe
against Justice Daniel Thew Wright,
President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor today discussed the jurist's recent sentencing
of Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison or contempt in a signed editorial in the American Federationist, as follows:

"Justice Wright discloses the mental attitude of a by-gone age
when the masters owned the workmen who were their slaves or serfs.
As a lineal descendant of the King
or his representative the chancellor,
Justice Wright undertook to deny
to the workers of our title their rights gained by the constitution of our country."

"Justice Wright would forbid that men even criticize a judge or his decision.
"In so doing he is propagating
a dangerous doctrine for there is no theory more subversive to Democracy than the theory of infallibility."

Any court that is compelled to resort to the suppression of critics
in order to protect itself against contempt, is not one that is standing for the ideals of Democracy, justice and liberty.

"The opinion is a document that reflects with the utmost clearness
this kindly viewpoint, the mental bias and mental process that stand out so conspicuously from the conceptions of the rights of citizenship
among our people."

Its pseudo-individualist political theory reverberates like a voice from the tomb of the "vested interest philosophers."

Gompers repeated the declaration immediately after the decision was rendered and immediately denied
by Justice Wright that he had heard that decision in the contempt case was completed prior to the Chicago convention, but withheld.

"We will stake our reputation
for veracity with Justice Wright!"
the editorial declared. One statement was that "Russia could not go farther in judicial censorship than Wright in the contempt decision."

MARQUIS KILLED

(By United Press)
Paris, July 25.—Marquis Louis de Montebello was found dead today under a tree near his chateau at Merelle struck by lightning during a storm which passed over Paris last evening.

HERE'S A KISS FOR BABY WHICH DOESN'T HURT A BIT

Never kiss your baby on the mouth. Behind its tiny ear or on the back of its softly creased neck,
are adorable places upon which to press one's lips. Its dear little toes seem to be made for kisses as does the center of its tiny hands.

The idea of a tobacco smoking
uncle or gum-chewing aunt swooping down upon the mouth of a poor little unoffending and defenseless
baby, is not pleasant.

Keep your microbes for older people if you feel that you must kiss someone.

Transmit your million or so of germs to someone your own size.
Baby's mouth should be washed out daily with a weak solution of boracic acid. This will perhaps counteract the trouble made by someone who kisses the baby
when you are not looking.

There is no telling how many children have contracted disease
had their lives wrecked and possibly died through the mouth to mouth kiss. It is one of the greatest dangers besetting a baby.

No baby has ever said it liked
to be kissed. Indeed one sees more babies cry than smile at the situation. Most of us kiss a baby from the purely selfish desire to feel its soft, sweet-smelling flesh against our lips. If we must succumb to this desire let's remember the poor baby's feeling and health, and kiss
it any place but on the mouth.

To polish sidecombs dry something thoroughly in the oven and then let it get cold. Rub this well on the combs with a piece of wa-dington or rag. As the flour gets dirty, use fresh, and be sure that the wadding is clean.

MOTHER TOO WEAK TO SAVE HER BOY

(By United Press)
Lexington, Ky., July 25.—Because his mother was unable to continue to sacrifice her blood for him, Frank Marion Clover, 17, died at his home
today.

When the youth was dying from impoverished blood last February,
the mother saved his life by submitting to transfusion. He recovered sufficiently to resume his work in a grocery. The old trouble recurred last week but the mother was too weak from her former experience to save him again.

TINY BABE TAKEN TO A CITY PRISON.

Boston, Mass., July 25.—
A three months old baby girl who was to have been christened Sunday, today was sent to the house of correction on Deer Island for a month's
"imprisonment."

Because the city of Boston
"could not take care of the infant" it was sent by special order to the court to its mother, who with her husband Albert Massesso, was convicted yesterday of house breaking. The parents stole only baby clothes. They said Massesso could not make enough to feed and clothe all
the children.

DON'T BE TIMID--ASK QUESTIONS --THAT'S WHAT WE'RE HERE FOR

Do You Desire information regarding the $3000 Selling Campaign? If So Drop In and See Us; Write Us;
Call Us Up.

The Campaign headquarters maintain a corps of representatives all willing to answer any and all questions.
Every day we receive enormous calls from different people who are saying labels for their favorite church or lodge, or asking for information regarding various matters pertaining to the Manufacturers' and Merchants' Selling Campaign. Some seem timid about asking for information.
GET AWAY FROM THAT IDEA. The Campaign Department opens at 8:00 a. m. and closes at 6 p. m. every week day. During this time there is constantly someone on duty, not only willing, but anxious to give you full and complete information on any question that you may ask.
There have been several people calling up and asking where to vote.
Bring all labels to the Campaign headquarters in the Jackson building—over the News office. Your labels can be turned in at the office and be exchanged for votes at any time. Everyone who brings in labels tabulated, the number of labels and the number of votes that they have and in nice neat order will receive 10 per cent. more votes. Any one desiring a list of the Manufacturers' products may call at the Campaign office and will be cheerfully given one.

IMPROVEMENT IN THE MARKET TONE
LONDON IS SELLING STEEL COMMON--BANK OF ENG. LAND HELPING OUT.
New York, July 26.--The stock market opened irregular. Although price movements continued irregular, there was a decided improvement in tone. Governments unchanged; other bonds steady. Trading was exceedingly quiet. At noon it showed no increase of note in any issues in late selling. The close was fairly strong.
London sold a few stocks here, chiefly Steel common. A great deal of interest was taken in the favorable attitude of Six Felix Schuster toward the American business and crop situation. Consols sold at 72 1/2.
The Bank of England made a fairly good exhibit for the week, although the statement was not up to general expectations. The strain upon the discount market, which raised outside rate above the official minimum of the institution, caused a loan expansion of $4,700,000, while the gain in reserve and bullion was only $1,000,000 in each case. The ratio of reserve to liabilities was 38, against 50.96 last week. The ten-year average was 45.8.

LIMA MAN INSTANTLY KILLED IN ILLINOIS.
JAMES MURPHY MEETS DEATH IN FREIGHT WRECK AT JOLET.
James Murphy, 44, a Lima man who has been a resident of Jolet, Illinois, for the past twenty years but whose family reside in this city, was instantly killed in a freight wreck in the yards of the Illinois Central railway at Jolet, Thursday afternoon, when a steel works locomotive of which he was engineer crashed into another train. Murphy was crushed beneath the wreckage and his body terribly mangled.
The accident occurred Thursday afternoon. Details received by local relatives are meager. Death was instantaneous, however.
The unfortunate man was born and reared in Lima. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy, of 713 north Union street, a brother, D. H. Murphy, a C. H. & D. engineer, and a sister, Mrs. J. J. Collison, of the same address, are local relatives.
Mr. Murphy moved to Jolet, twenty years ago and held a responsible position with the steel company there at the time of his death. He was married, but had no children. Other sisters are: M. H. Broderick and Mrs. Louis Wolfe, of Muncie, Indiana, sister. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning, and local relatives will attend.
Fire Chief John Mack will attend the Ohio Fire Chiefs convention at Youngstown on October 15, 16 and 17. An invitation was received last night. The local chief will investigate the motor truck in use at Youngstown which was recently installed.
It is not what we think, but what we can prove beyond a reasonable doubt, concerning the dead. Hear Judge Rutherford give the proof, Sunday at Memorial Hall at 8 o'clock. 7-26-2t

"DEVIL TAKE HIM"
IS LABOR LEADERS LATEST OUTBURST AGAINST AN ENGLISH LORD.
London, July 26 --"German bloodnights are less to be feared than British dreadnights," shouted Labor Leader Don Tillet to a throng of striking dock workers on Tower Hill today, in a speech exhorting the government for spending money on battleships, while English workmen and their families are starving.
From the crowd some one remonstrated the speaker that there has been as yet no answer to his prayer for the death of Chairman Lord Devonport of the port of London authority, who the strikers blame for the stubbornness with which the employers have held out against them.
"True," agreed Tillet. "I am satisfied now that God does not want Lord Devonport. May the devil take him"

TO MARRY BEFORE GOING TO THE PEN
Denver, Colo., July 26 --Frank Wilson and Mae Knudson, each under sentence to the penitentiary for counterfeiting today asked United States Marshall Bailey for permission to marry before they are separated to serve their prison terms. Wilson will be sent to the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, while the woman will serve a term in the Colorado prison at Canon City. The fear that Wilson made of tuberculosis before his term is finished caused the woman to request that he be married. She wants to bear his name should he die.
Marshall Bailey says there is no law forbidding their marriage.

FOR HAY FEVER AND ROSE COLD TRY ELY'S CREAM BALM. IT GIVES INSTANT RELIEF.
"Balm" is just the work for this soothing, healing, antiseptic Cream. Its effects in cases of Hay Fever and Rose Colds are almost magical. You just grease the nostrils with a little of the Cream, in the pleasant, aromatic, times; and in a few minutes your head begins to clear, the sneezing, sniffing and weeping stopped. People who have suffered for years with Hay Fever and Rose Cold can be free from all the distressing symptoms by simply using Ely's Cream Balm morning and night during the Hay Fever season.
Hay Fever is due to an irritated, inflamed condition of the mucous membrane (inside skin) of the nose and throat. Strong powders, snuffs and sprays simply aggravate the trouble, but Ely's Cream Balm soothes, heals and strengthens the raw, sore membrane, and in this way not only relieves the trouble but prevents its return.
All druggists sell and recommend it. Get a fifty cent bottle today; use it according to directions --get your money back if you are not satisfied.

IMPROVEMENT IN THE MARKET TONE

LONDON IS SELLING STEEL COMMON--BANK OF ENG. LAND HELPING OUT.

New York, July 26.--The stock market opened irregular. Although price movements continued irregular, there was a decided improvement in tone. Governments unchanged; other bonds steady. Trading was exceedingly quiet. At noon it showed no increase of note in any issues in late selling. The close was fairly strong.

London sold a few stocks here, chiefly Steel common. A great deal of interest was taken in the favorable attitude of Six Felix Schuster toward the American business and crop situation. Consols sold at 72 1-2.

The Bank of England made a fairly good exhibit for the week, although the statement was not up to general expectations. The strain upon the discount market, which raised outside rate above the official minimum of the institution, caused a loan expansion of $4,700,000, while the gain in reserve and bullion was only $1,000,000 in each case. The ratio of reserve to liabilities was 38, against 50.96 last week. The ten-year average was 45 1/2.

"DEVIL TAKE HIM"
IS LABOR LEADERS LATEST OUTBURST AGAINST AN ENGLISH LORD.

London, July 26 --"German bloodsuckers are less to be feared than British dreadnoughts," shouted Labor Leader Don Tillett to a throng of striking dock workers on Tower Hill today, in a speech exhorting the government for spending money on battleships, while English workmen and their families are starving.

From the crowd some one remonstrated the speaker that there has been as yet no answer to his prayer for the death of Chairman Lord Devonport of the port of London authority, who the strikers blame for the stubbornness with which the employers have held out against them.

"True," agreed Tillett. "I am satisfied now that God does not want Lord Devonport. May the devil take him"

TO MARRY BEFORE GOING TO THE PEN
Denver, Colo., July 26 --Frank Wilson and Mae Knudson, each under sentence to the penitentiary for counterfeiting today asked United States Marshall Bailey for permission to marry before they are separated to serve their prison terms. Wilson will be sent to the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, while the woman will serve a term in the Colorado prison at Canon City. The fear that Wilson made of tuberculosis before his term is finished caused the woman to request that he be married. She wants to bear his name should he die.

Marshall Bailey says there is no law forbidding their marriage.

WHEAT GAINS JUST A FRACTION TODAY

BUT CORN AND OATS ARE STILL ON THE DOWN GRADE.

Chicago, July 26.--Wheat made a slight gain today, at the close showing almost a cent stronger than at yesterday's close. At the opening Sept. was up 3-8 and December an eighth. At noon Dec. was unchanged but Sept. had declined an eighth, though it went to 7-8 at the close. Sept. corn was down a quarter at the opening and at noon and the Dec. crop was down an eighth at the opening and lost 3-8 at noon. Both crops of oats started away unchanged but the Dec. crop lost a half cent in the early afternoon.

The close showed:
Wheat, cash, July 96 7-8; Sept. 93 7-8; Dec. 96. Corn, cash July 71; Sept. 65 1-2; Dec. 57 3-8. Oats, cash, July 46 3-4; Sept. 33 1-4; Dec. 34 3-5. July pk. 18.02; Sept. pk. 18.20; Oct. pk. 18.25.

(By Wagner Wire).
Many items in the outlook suggest 90 cent wheat. Cash corn has developed freak tendencies and its changes have to be handled carefully as a factor. I am not entirely decided on corn. I am little afraid that old corn reserves are too light for bear measure. Corn crop is two weeks late even three weeks late corn has to last another three months. Texas has a big surplus of new oats but they are being gobbled up where ever offered. Hog price is hardening, averaging 790. Trade in products light. Some old timers say hogs will sell higher. Oats threshing are too large for chance of a good upturn in September and December oats. Central Illinois reports none sold. Decatur dealers never saw new oats so hard to buy. Oklahoma sends reports from 50 to 100 for corn. Iowa and Illinois corn reports about 80. Farmers will bin all they can and dealers will store all they can hold about forty card reports in by 7 a. m. are good.

More Johnson, former Limalite, who now lives in Detroit and who is a traveling salesman of machinery, was in the city a few hours yesterday.

FOR HAY FEVER AND ROSE COLD TRY ELY'S CREAM BALM. IT GIVES INSTANT RELIEF.

"Balm" is just the work for this soothing, healing, antiseptic Cream. Its effects in cases of Hay Fever and Rose Cold are almost magical. You just grease the nostrils with a little of the Cream, in the pleasant, aromatic, tincture; and in a few minutes your head begins to clear, the sneezing, sniffing and weeping stopped. People who have suffered for years with Hay Fever and Rose Cold can be free from all the distressing symptoms by simply using Ely's Cream Balm morning and night during the Hay Fever season.

Hay Fever is due to an irritated, inflamed condition of the mucous membrane (inside skin) of the nose and throat. Strong powders, snuffs and sprays simply aggravate the trouble, but Ely's Cream Balm soothes, heals and strengthens the raw, sore membrane, and in this way not only relieves the trouble but prevents its return. All druggists sell and recommend it. Get a fifty cent bottle today--use it according to directions--get your money back if you are not satisfied.

LIMA MAN INSTANTLY KILLED IN ILLINOIS.

JAMES MURPHY MEETS DEATH IN FREIGHT WRECK AT JOLET.

James Murphy, 44, a Lima man who has been a resident of Jolet, Illinois, for the past twenty years but whose family reside in this city, was instantly killed in a freight wreck in the yards of the Illinois Central railway at Jolet, Thursday afternoon, when a steel works locomotive of which he was engineer crashed into another train. Murphy was crushed beneath the wreckage and his body terribly mangled.

The accident occurred Thursday afternoon. Details received by local relatives are meager. Death was instantaneous, however.

The unfortunate man was born and reared in Lima. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy, of 713 north Union street, a brother, D. H. Murphy, a C. H. & D. engineer, and a sister, Mrs. J. J. Collison, of the same address, are local relatives.

Mr. Murphy moved to Jolet, twenty years ago and held a responsible position with the steel company there at the time of his death. He was married, but had no children. Other sisters are: M. H. Broderick and Mrs. Louis Wolfe, of Muncie, Indiana, sister.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning, and local relatives will attend.

Fire Chief John Mack will attend the Ohio Fire Chiefs convention at Youngstown on October 15, 16 and 17. An invitation was received last night. The local chief will investigate the motor truck in use at Youngstown which was recently installed.

It is not what we think, but what we can prove beyond a reasonable doubt, concerning the dead. Hear Judge Rutherford give the proof, Sunday at Memorial Hall at 8 o'clock. 7-26-2t

NOTED LAWYER WILL SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

JUDGE RUTHERFORD.

On Sunday afternoon at Memorial Hall, Judge Rutherford will deliver a free lecture on "Where Are The Dead?"

Seldom these days do we hear great doctrinal questions discussed from the pulpit. But now comes to our city a noted lawyer and lecturer, Judge Rutherford, as well as a profound Bible scholar, who promises to answer the great question, "Where are the dead?", presenting the subject from a lawyer's viewpoint and using the Bible for his sole authority. From press reports this lecture has attracted large audiences whenever delivered, in this country and Europe. And why not? All are interested in knowing what the plain and reasonable teaching of the Bible is on this question. Everyone must have experience with death and they desire to know where their dead loved ones have gone.

In his search of the Scriptures for ammunition to use in defense of his clients, this noted lawyer found many wonderful truths, which are ignored by the average pastor or clergyman. This led to a deeper Bible study and later to public proclamation from the platform at such times as he can find convenient. He does not come here to talk for money nor converts, he does not come in the interests of any denomination or sect, but in the interest of the people in general to speak of great Bible truths which are of vital interest to everyone. His lecture is not along the line pursued by the minister. He presents the subject from the lawyer's standpoint, clear, reasonable and convincing. Believing that the people should give more attention to Bible study and that they would do so if their attention is called to the great truths, he comes here to stimulate a closer study of the Bible. The great question, "Where are the dead?" he will clearly and satisfactorily answer. Judge Rutherford is making a brief visit to the South and will be in our city only one day. We are pleased to announce his coming.

For this lecture the Memorial Hall has been provided and will be opened to the public, no admission being charged and no collection will be received. This will be a rare opportunity for many of our citizens to hear. The doors will be opened, for the convenience of the people, one hour before the lecture begins, the lecture beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

HERE'S A LAWYER'S DEFINITION OF A SCIENTIST.

AND ALSO HIS CANDID APINION OF WHAT A PROFESSOR IS.

(By United Press)
Chicago, Ill., July 26.—John C. Hartwell failed in his efforts to prevent his conviction for the theft of the Amulet which once belonged to King Menes, who reigned thousands of years ago on the banks of the Nile. The Amulet was the property of the University of Chicago. Into the trial was injected evidence concerning Noah, Shem, Ham, Japhet and all the lore of Egyptian history—the prosecution said it was to cloud the real issue in the case—but the jury decided that Hartwell had stolen the Amulet, notwithstanding all the ancient history. The states case rested on fingerprint evidence. Incidentally attorney John F. Greeting delivered his notion of a college professor during the arguments.

A professor of Science," he said, "is a man who can see a mosquito on the Masonic tower scratch his back with his left hind leg, but cannot see the tower if a man is crazy and lained he is a scientist. If he is crazy and not learned, he is just crazy. Professors are harmless monomaniacs."

The weather permitting, the Brotherhood of the High Street U. B. church will give an Ice Cream Social on the church lawn this evening. The Public is invited to attend. 7-26-12

Chairman W. L. Finley May Go After the Campaign.

Former friends in Kenton of W. L. Finley, late State Oil Inspector and just named as chairman of the Democratic committee, state that Finley will return to the editorial desk following the present campaign and has two papers in his mind's eye one of them being in northwestern Ohio.

BLUFFTON MAN WAS RELEASED

HABEAS CORPUS PROCEEDINGS FAILED AND FATHER CAME TO RESCUE.

Harry Bennett, the Bluffton young man who was recently sent to the work house in this city in default of the payment of a fine of $75 which was imposed on him in Mayor's court at Bluffton, after his conviction on the charge of bootlegging, was released from custody of work house superintendent Heffern this morning.

Probate Judge Hutchison, who heard the habeas corpus proceedings which were instituted by attorney W. W. Sutton in an effort to secure the release of the prisoner on the grounds that the mayor of Bluffton had erred in imposing the imprisonment proviso in the sentence after the case had been taken to both common pleas and circuit courts, decided the case yesterday afternoon and refused the prisoner freedom and refused set forth by ex-senator Sutton. Today the young prisoner's father came to his rescue with a sufficient amount of money to pay the fine, after which the youth was released.

INNOCENT BOYS

Flirt With Death When They Attempt to Run Elevator.

Two small boys unwittingly flirted with death, late Thursday evening, when they took charge of the ten horse-power hoist engine and construction elevator in front of the new Waldo Hotel at the northeast corner of the public square and shot the unwieldy elevator up and down the shaft giving free excursion to boy friends. The two were William Leffler, 11, 429 south Central avenue, and Albert Neusbaum, 11, 1148 north Jefferson street.

Pedestrians were horrified to see the elevator shooting up and down the flimsy shaft loaded with the juveniles, and notified the police. The boys were turned over to Probation Officer Phalen.

MISSING BOYS FOUND.

With minds bent upon going west to "hunt Indiana," Joseph Binder, 16, and Carl Moehling, 16, two local boys who ran off two weeks ago, and whose whereabouts have been a mystery to their parents in this city, were located at Independence, Kansas, yesterday. William Binder, 416 south Central avenue, heard from the boys. They have abandoned Indian pursuits and are now in Independence with the Moehling boy's father.

HEALTH BOARD DECLARES THE MAYOR IS NEGLIGENT IN HIS OFFICIAL DUTIES

Failure to Co-operate in Campaign for Healthy City Causes Shook to be Scathingly Arraigned.

Mayor Corbin N. Shook is president of the city board of health, ex-officio.

Mayor Shook, since his incumbency in the city's executive chair, has been antagonistic toward the board, and has refused to sit in session.

Mayor Shook recently charged the board with neglect of duty. Last night in regular session, the accusation was taken up, and the mayor's dereliction in the execution of his duties brought to light.

In a scathing arraignment of the mayor and his hostile tactics, City

Health Officer Jones last night drew attention to the fact that he was handicapped in looking after the city's health interests through the failure of the mayor to co-operate with him.

The mayor charges us with negligence," declared Dr. Jones. "If there is negligence in this department it is because of Mayor Shook's hostility. He is derelict in his duty for which he draws salary by declining to preside at our meetings."

Other hot shots were fired at the mayor. Members joined in the discussion and it is not improbable that an effort will be made to force the mayor to sit in the board's sessions.

Little else was done last night. The monthly statement submitted to the board by the health officer, was as follows:

Cases remaining from the month of June: Measles, 1; scarlet fever, 0; diphtheria, 1; and chicken pox, 0.

Cases reported during month of June: Measles, 7; scarlet fever, 3; diphtheria, 4; and chicken pox, 0.

Cases discharged during the month: Measles, 5; scarlet fever, 1; diphtheria, 4; and chicken pox, 0.

Cases remaining under treatment: Measles, 8; scarlet fever, 2; diphtheria, 1; chicken pox, 0.

MURDERERS HANGED.

Nashville, Tenn., July 26.—John Bailey and George Shelton, convicted of the murder of Ben Pettigrew and two children in Decatur county, Tenn., were hanged at the state penitentiary here this morning. Will Alexander, of Obion county, who was hanged at the same time, was granted twenty days respite by Governor Hooper.

All my life I have heard the preachers speak about the dead, but they did not agree where they are. Now I am going to hear what this lawyer has to say about it. He must have something good to tell us or he would not come here and lecture free.

MAYOR REFUSES TO ANSWER THE BOARD

When asked this morning by The News for a statement regarding the attack of the Board of Health upon him, charging negligence in not attending meetings and filing any complaints received through the police department, Mayor Shook declined to talk on the subject.

It was learned, however, that Mayor Shook had given out a signed statement to another publication but when asked concerning this he refused to give The News a copy. "Guess the Mayor doesn't like you News fellows," said a policeman in a whisper after the turn-down of the police reporter. "He would, however, willingly give you thirty days."

NOTED LAWYER WILL SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

JUDGE RUTHERFORD.

On Sunday afternoon at Memorial Hall, Judge Rutherford will deliver a free lecture on "Where Are The Dead?"

Seldom these days do we hear great doctrinal questions discussed from the pulpit. But now comes to our city a noted lawyer and lecturer, Judge Rutherford, as well as a profound Bible scholar, who promises to answer the great question, "Where are the dead?", presenting the subject from a lawyer's viewpoint and using the Bible for his sole authority. From press reports this lecture has attracted large audiences whenever delivered, in this country and Europe. And why not? All are interested in knowing what the plain and reasonable teaching of the Bible is on this question. Everyone must have experience with death and they desire to know where their dead loved ones have gone.

In his search of the Scriptures for ammunition to use in defense of his clients, this noted lawyer found many wonderful truths, which are ignored by the average pastor or clergyman. This led to a deeper Bible study and later to public proclamation from the platform at such times as he can find convenient. He does not come here to talk for money nor converts, he does not come in the interests of any denomination or sect, but in the interest of the people in general to speak of great Bible truths which are of vital interest to everyone. His lecture is not along the line pursued by the minister. He presents the subject from the lawyer's standpoint, clear, reasonable and convincing. Believing that the people should give more attention to Bible study and that they would do so if their attention is called to the great truths, he comes here to stimulate a closer study of the Bible. The great question, "Where are the dead?" he will clearly and satisfactorily answer. Judge Rutherford is making a brief visit to the South and will be in our city only one day. We are pleased to announce his coming.

For this lecture the Memorial Hall has been provided and will be opened to the public, no admission being charged and no collection will be received. This will be a rare opportunity for many of our citizens to hear. The doors will be opened, for the convenience of the people, one hour before the lecture begins, the lecture beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

(By United Press)

Into the trial was injected evidence concerning Noah, Shem, Ham, Japhet and all the lore of Egyptian history—the prosecution said it was to cloud the real issue in the case—but the jury decided that Hartwell had stolen the Amulet, notwithstanding all the ancient history.
